The 1928 X-Ray

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF
MEDICAL COLLEGE OF VIRGINIA
RICHMOND, VIRGINIA
In later years phantom shadows of today will pass in endless procession before the dimming eye of memory; there will be the call of a never-to-be-forgotten youth, a youth never to return—

In this fifteenth volume of the X-RAY we have endeavored to make a perpetual means of living again the days of the past, to bring forth the reminiscences of college days, to aid in the recollection of our friends and our work.

After our laborious task of publishing this volume, our greatest reward would be to realize that this may be the means of preserving rose-colored memories of our various professions, of Charity and its sister, Service, of a cup of water to the Thirsty, of Open Arms to a Tired Child.

DEDICATION

To

Hjalmar Laurits Osterud

Who has been an inspiration to us throughout our years of college life, we, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-eight, dedicate this fifteenth volume of in token of our love for him as a man, our admiration for him as a scholar, and our devotion to him as a leader of men.

THE X-RAY

Hjalmar Laurits Osterud, M.A., Ph.D.
M. C. V. Fight

Alma Mater is fighting,
Alma Mater will win.
Watch 'em play that ball
They will win it after all,
Old M. C. V. will never give in.
The Sawbones team will surely beat 'em,
Those boys know how to fight.
They will win this game today—
Let's give a hip-hip-hip hooray!!
For the wearers of the old Green and White.

Chorus
For when the Sawbones team is fighting
And all is dark as darkest night—
Then the team will stiffen
They'll play for a gain;
The whole team fights like—well, Boys,
They never fight in vain.
Old Green and White will wave forever
They are the truest colors that be.
So here's to our warriors true
They are scrapping through and through
For dear old M. C. V.

CLASS HISTORY

OUR years ago we climbed aboard the good ship "M. C. V." and we set our sails to breast the gales to the harbor called "M.D." We tried to lay our course aright, and now, the ravages of the four storms past, the harbor is in sight. We started out without a doubt that we would make the grade; each one knew that he'd come through; each unfearing and unafraid. We had our sights and many rights, laid flat upon the desk, and morning's sun found many a one a sad and hopeless wreck; but back to the wheel, on an even keel we breasted the wind, and laughed in glee to see the sea foam angrily behind. The first year out, we were tossed about, as a ship in deepest fog, but returned the shot, fired there-at and pas-ed by "H.L." and Kellogg. Anatomy and Chemistry make many a good man sore, but with the first year done, most men had won, we're now a Sophomore!

As we journeyed on the murky sun grew hotter every day, obscured by clouds like funereal clouds, that never rolled away. This "Charlie C." was found to be a friendly privater who used us rough, made us do our "stuff," but passed us with a cheer. The "E. C. L." frigate gave us hell and left a few men lame, and one dark day we swore he'd pay, but we passed him just the same. One day with joy, we saw a buoy bob just before our prow, and we passed it by with hopeful eye, for boy, we're Juniors now!

On, on we fought, though some got caught as high up we climbed in the rigging, for questions rough asked by our old pal Dr. Higgins. By this time we were used to sea and almost bullet-proof, and careened long miles beneath the smiles of the flagship, Vanderhoof. And one bright day as we made our way across the rolling seas, a small, trim craft, with a pennant aft, the Baughman boat, "O.B." With a semaphore it showed the shore that shown not far away, and with William's aid we anchor weighed in the shade of Senior Bay!

We rested there in the warm, bright air that bates all fourth-year men; but taking stores, we left those shores and journeyed on again. The sky had cleared and straight we steered with aids on every hand; the Willis' light shining clear and bright on Graduation Land. The Coleman Crew, and Peple, too, were among the ships we spoke, the Porter and the Hutchinson, the Graham and LaRoque. So it has not all been storm and squall, by winds and bullets peppered; when about to fall there was the Call to lean on—and the Shepherd. So we kept our nerve and didn't swerve, we knew that we were winning, helped in the fight by the big Joe White, the Brinkley and the Griman. It was men like these that eased the breeze, and eased the bumps and bobbins, the Michaux, Hill, the Price, the Murrell, the Williams and the Robins.

And now that trip is finished and we are leaving old M. C. V., and each alone, in a ship of his own, must sail another sea. But if we are brave, we will ride each wave, as we in the past have done, that the God of all, at the last roll call may say, "Well done, well done."
William Nash Thompson
President Senior Class in Medicine
Theta Kappa Psi; B.S. in Medicine University of Richmond; "Skull and Bones" Staff '25-'26; Honor Council '26-'27; Faculty Editor "Skull and Bones" '26-'27; Southwest Virginia Club; University of Richmond Club.

This young man hails from southwest Virginia, whence come the fairy stones. He shows great promise to uphold the standard of leadership which is characteristic of the gentlemen of the hills of Virginia, but we will not hold this against him. Nash enjoys a joke, is a true friend in need, and never loses sight of the goal to which we are all working, applying himself accordingly.

We are counting on him for large things in the future, and expect him to bring home the bacon. Wherever he goes, or what his field, success is our wish.
David Filmore Adcock—A discussion of his attributes and characteristics would be a lengthy discussion, whereas, space necessitates briefness. David, as he is known to the close friends of his class, is versatile and loves the changes of life. He prepped at Trinity Park, spent one year at U. N. C., preclinical work at Wake Forest as well as his first two years of clinical work there. If the name David has any prophetic bearing on the future, we can say he will be a true leader, especially when it comes to the trials of study. He plugs until too late to sleep and early enough for breakfast, and thus keeps his class average steering at "95 knots." He has no ambitious instabilities and does not allow his anchor chain drag to mar his scholastic voyage. His sincere mood, true determination and ability will go far to make his the success he well deserves. M. C. V. will ever honor him.

Monk is one of the regulars of the class of 1928, having been with us for four years of medicine. He is an ardent supporter of old M. C. V. and his loyalty and allegiance need never be questioned. During the four years he has spent in our midst we have found him a true friend. Although he is not an orator, he has talked about many a subject long enough to present those of us whose names do not begin with "A" being called upon. As long as M. C. V. has such men as Monk, she need not worry about the future. Here's hoping that he may have a bright and prosperous future and may he continue to make new friends, as well as keep the old ones, as he has done while in our midst.
Asher Lael Baker
Newport News, Va.
"Pewee"
Phi Chi; Pi Kappa Alpha; Interne Club; Revelers; William and Mary Club.

This gentleman is a native of "the City by the Sea." Pewee is a good student, a conscientious worker, and a man ever ready to help his fellow student. His friendly manner has won for him a host of friends among the student body and his natural appetite for learning has passed him through his four years in medicine with high honors. He has worked faithfully and well as his records will show. Along with these many attributes, he is also a talented "ladies man." He has a combination of attributes which go to make up a real man and doctor. A gentleman of high morals and ideals, a man with sincere personality. Honest, level-headed, a loyal friend, an excellent student, a clean-cut gentleman—this is "Pewee."

Joseph Francis Barrett
Waterbury, Conn.
"Joe"
Chi Zeta Chi; B.S. North Carolina.

Joe, as he is known to us, comes to us from Connecticut—but he comes via North Carolina, where he took his first two years of medical work in the Wake Forest Medical School. Although for only two years at the Medical College of Virginia, he has made many friends by his very congenial disposition and winning personality. But in severing the ties in a conquered field, this doctor will go forth, as his friends and admirers know, to win the best life holds for its truly great.
Clifford Harry Beach
RICHMOND, VA.

"Pop"

Omega Upsilon Phi; Phi Delta Chi; Sigma Phi Epsilon; Treasurer Y. M. C. A., '25-26; University of Richmond Club; Ph.G. Medical College of Virginia.

So many things can be said in favor of Cliff that the average person would look up and exclaim "What manner of man is this?" He has been with us for four years; years that, for those of us who have known him well, have seemed a mere moment. To see him is to inquire about him; to meet him is to want to learn more about him; and to know him is to be proud of one's association. For in him lies not the superficial type of friendship which is so commonly encountered, but the kind that makes one feel thankful for having such a friend. His record in school has been excellent, his efforts to acquire knowledge untiring. Our hearts are for you, Cliff, and we hate to think of your leaving. We know, however, that you will be more than successful in all you undertake.

Carroll Graves Bennett
TOSHEE, VA.

"Ben"

Chi Zeta Chi; Internes Club; Honor Council, '27-'28.

When budding into manhood, Carroll was imbued with the determination to become a physician. In his preliminary training he never lost sight of his vision. He cast his lot with the class of '28, beginning with those gloomy, stirring days of anatomy and fighting his battles to a successful victory over "Dr. Charlie." An excellent student and a true Southern gentleman are his most admirable attributes. With a quiet disposition and modesty amounting to bashfulness, Carroll has come to hold a warm place in the hearts of a host of friends. His love for his chosen profession, generous and kind heart, and sympathetic nature foreshadow a brilliant success.
WILLIAM RHEA BOND
RICHMOND, VA.

"Bill"
Theta Kappa Psi; Sigma Zeta; Kappa Psi; Ph.G. Medical College of Virginia, '21; William and Mary Club; President Student Research, '25-'26.

Of all men, Bill, you are one of Nature's noblest. It has indeed been a pleasure and an honor to have known you and to have been associated with you for these past four years. Standing high in all things scholastic, your attractive personality, ready humor and pleasant conversation have made you one of the most sought-after men in our college. With records for studies conquered and problems solved, we cannot but say you will succeed. Life is short, Bill, but during the brief stay on this planet of man, we, the Class of '28, feel sure that the day will come when you, at the teaching end of the game, will hear comments like this: "Well, it must be so, 'cause Dr. Bill said it was." M. C. V. is proud of you, has faith in you, and know you will win your just laurels.

CHARLES RALPH BOWMAN
WOODSTOCK, VA.

"Charlie"
Omega Upsilon Phi; Pi Kappa Alpha; Phi Delta Chi; President Sophomore Class.

The eminent gentleman pictured above is another member of the Hall of Fame. Charlie is noted for being so dog-gone good-natured and happy, as well as proving by his work that the best way is, after all, "work while you work and play while you play." Charlie does both with all his heart. His record that is left behind is an enviable one, for he has not only easily passed all scholastic requirements, but has an insatiable thirst for knowledge. He has worked hard, but has come off with flying colors. Charlie, we are proud of you; we know you will make good—even become famous—and the Class of '28 wishes you Godspeed.
Altamont Hart Bracey
Bracey, Va.

"Unc"
Phi Chi; Kappa Sigma; B.S. University of Virginia.

Altamont hails from the "city" of Bracey, Va., known only to the inhabitants thereof. During his four years' stay with us, he has been an exceptionally good student—though a man of few words (except to cuas). He is always on the job, and when the quiz marks are turned in you can bet his mark will head the list. And though (supposedly) very bashful, he is quite a sheik. If you don't believe it, just watch for him on the northeast corner of Seventh and Broad any evening a few minutes after five. The number of smiles he receives is appalling. It is needless to say that his observations toward the givers are extremely keen. Success go with you, Altamont, your Alma Mater will some day be proud to say "he is one of My Boys."

Lucious Hazeltine Bracey
Bracey, Va.

"Lucious"
Phi Chi; Sigma Phi Epsilon; Interne City Jail.

Though four years have nearly passed behind us, we still find Lucious the same hard-worker that he was when he entered our old school in the fall of 1924. His two years' sojourn at the City Jail (as interne) has given him a more serious outlook on life, but, at the same time, has proven a most valuable experience. From the start of his work in Anatomy to the last of his cases in the hospital, he has proved to be thorough and conscientious in all his work. Many and true have been the friendships he has found, and we will remember him long as a friend to us all, and one upon whom we can always depend.
Wesley Otis Brandon
YADKINSVILLE, N. C.

"Brandy"
B.A. Wake Forest College.

"Brandy" came to us from the good old state of North Carolina. And since living with us he has attained much knowledge of the Medical Profession. Brandy thinks the world was made for each man to think for himself, he has always had high ideals and has struggled to reach them—his adversities have apparently been only stepping-stones to the higher accomplishments of life. He is a congenial, big-hearted fellow who always greets you with a smile, and has acquired many feminine characteristics due to his continued exposure to the fairer sex. He has more than won the admiration and esteem of his fellow students. So, good luck, Old Brandy, the Old North State will be better for your living there.

Clyde Lemuel Brothers
RICHMOND, VA.

"Clyde"
Theta Kappa Psi; Sigma Zeta; "Skull and Bones" Representative, '27; Recorder-Treasurer Sigma Zeta; Class Basketball.

Seldom do we meet a boy who is less afraid of work, or who will strive harder to reach his goal, than Clyde. Four years ago he plunged into the study of medicine "on his own," refusing all help from his family, and has stubbornly fought his way to the top. His untiring energy, his generous disposition, his ready wit have won for him the respect and admiration of a host of friends. Clyde has steadily maintained a high scholastic average, besides which he has taken an active part in extra-curricular activities, both social, athletic and especially in research work. He is incidentally a very proficient soldier and has the distinction of winning one of the coveted Army internships. We may rest assured that Clyde will make a success of his every undertaking, for he will give it the best he has, and the best will come back to him.
Here, Ladies and Gentlemen, we have Chad in all his fullness. He came to us from the eastern shores of Carolina. He has only one weakness and that is he thinks there is no harm in arguing and he usually gets by with it; although, we do not hold this against him for his other good qualities more than make up for this. Chad has been one of the leaders of his class and has acquired much knowledge of the medical profession and we predict for him a great success. Chad is a congenial, big-hearted, likeable fellow who has won the admiration and esteem of his fellow students as well as some of the nurses.

William Stewart Chadwick

Gloucester, N. C.

"Chad"

Chi Zeta Chi; B.A. Wake Forest, '26; Assistant Bacteriology Wake Forest, '25.

The "Magic City" has most surely lived up to its name in producing for the world one Raymond Claterbaugh, and in sending him out from the old home roof hoping he might return again harden with knowledge of human ills and the remedies. Therefore, we are proud to say that in this man we have the type that counts most in life, this life of being educated. He is a very true friend to all of our class on all occasions, and it is putting it safely to say that he is, beyond doubt, among the most popular, all-around men in our class. Clatty keeps his grades running well into the upper strata of the class, so therefore lives up to those obligations to himself and the school. In addition to these, he has his outside passions too, chief among which are Golf and Bridge. In summarizing—a polished gentleman, a sincere friend, a man of knowledge and a delightful cause of heart-aches among the fairer sex. Luck to you, Clatty.

Raymond Lynwood Claterbaugh

Roanoke, Va.

"Clatty"

Phi Chi; Alpha Chi Rho; Revelers, '27-'28; Southwest Virginia Club.
ANTHONY RODERICK COMUNALE
ISELIN, N. J.

"Duke"

Theta Kappa Psi; B.S.; West Virginia Club.

"Duke" came to us, at the beginning of our Junior year, from West Virginia University. Although quiet and unassuming on first acquaintance, he is extremely likable and considerate with a sincere personal interest in friendships. We have no doubt about his success in the future—whether it be fishing, sheiking or hastening to his very numerous patients. Our confidence in him is well placed. With his courage and ability, success is well assured.

GARRET DALTON
PULASKI, VA.

"Slats"

Sigma Nu; Phi Rho Sigma; German Club; Vice-President Senior Class; Southwest Virginia Club; William and Mary Club.

Garret is one of the well-known members of the Senior Class and is a typical son of Southwest Virginia. Few can equal his standard of character and well-rounded, likable good nature. All of us are happy in knowing him and being closely associated with Garry for these four years. He is the sort of chap that is always ready to help anyone and never ready to do anyone an injustice. We all wish him the greatest success in his chosen profession. When the time comes to part and he takes the lone trail, all of us shall miss him. We shall feel that we have lost a true friend, a good sport and a gentleman, as well as a darn good Doctor.
Mahlon Wingate DeLoatch
Severn, N. C.
"Delux"
Chi Zeta Chi; B.A. Wake Forest; North Carolina Club.

Mahlon Wingate DeLoatch, known to his close friends as Delux, really is a DeLuxe gentleman from North Carolina. He was placed in our tender care by Wake Forest University, where he took his pre-medical and first two years of medicine. He proudly exhibits a Bachelor's Degree, but how he has managed to remain a bachelor thus far is a mystery to his classmates for he certainly likes the opposite (contrary) sex, especially those who will call him on the phone and arrange all details of spending an enjoyable evening in his company. He may remain a Doctor of Medicine and a Bachelor of Arts all his life, but it is more or less certain that he will surrender to Dan Cupid before long and enter the state of "Wedded Bliss"—and it isn't North Carolina, either. His virtues are many and his faults are few; of the latter we can only mention his great love for the somnolent arms of Morpheus. We are sure, however, that this will not interfere with his future success, of which we are sure he will receive his share.

Edward Anthony Dignam
Hartford, Conn.
"Dig"
Alpha Kappa Kappa; Sigma Zeta; B.S. Villanova College.

"Dig," as he is better known, hails from the Wooden Nutmeg state. However, he seems to be just as much at home in old Virginia, probably due to his former soldier days at Fortress Monroe. Dignam was like the proverbial clam in his shell during his first year here, but gradually extended himself. We have found him to have a keen sense of humor of the worth-while type. While Ed hasn't been on any of our athletic teams, he is a consistent worker in the Y. M. C. A., and physical culture is one of his hobbies. He has taken his studies seriously and supplemented them with good hospital work in the summer; and if he continues with his gentlemanly manner and scientific inclinations we have high hopes for his success in the future.
Willie Kerns Dix
Mears, Va.

"Willie"

Theta Kappa Psi; Masonic Club; Interne Club; Historian Junior Class; University of Richmond Club.

This learned, handsome and innocent individual first saw light on the eastern shore of Virginia. He came to M. C. V. after spending three years at the University of Richmond, where he received the B.S. in Medicine. Willie is a thorough and consistent worker with an enviable record at M. C. V. But in spite of these studious qualities, he is every inch a ladies man. His social duties are never neglected. Will is a loyal friend, a true sport and a perfect gentleman. The Class of '28 bids adieu to one of its most worthy sons, of whom it is justly proud.

Harry L. Duncan
Moundsville, W. Va.

"Dunk"

Nu Phi; A.B. Marietta College; B.S. University West Virginia; West Virginia Club.

Dunk is a man of few words and much action—altogether dependable. He has used the midnight oil to advantage, but to hear him tell it he never opens a book. As to the ladies, we aren't entirely in the dark. He is quite an author, if letters are any indication; for there is always a very important epistle to be written daily, regardless of all else. What Dunk will do after he gets his diploma, we are not certain about; but whatever branch of medicine he specializes in, we are sure that he will succeed.
William Haymaker Earnest
Export, PA.
“Bill”
Chi Zeta Chi; Bachelor of Science.

Earnest came to us from the University of West Virginia, and those of us who know him real well have found him to be a man without worries, but a consistently hard worker in whatever he attempts to do. He has a cheerful personality, one of the traits which his friends admire, and is always ready with a cheery hello. He doesn’t chew and expectorate strong tobacco juice like some of his hardy, typical-mountaineer friends, but one often sees him smoking his favorite black pipe between class periods. The feminine sex have also found him socially inclined. He is a regular sheik with the ladies and loves them all. We all sincerely believe that Earnest will make good in his chosen field of medicine and when he goes back to the West Virginia hills, may success follow him.

George Washington Easley
Chatham, VA.
“Uncle George”
Phi Chi; Theta Chi; Sigma Zeta; R. O. T. C.; West Virginia Club; Committee for Revision of Student Constitution and Honor Council By-Laws.

Uncle George hails from the confines of West Virginia. He came to this precinct four years ago and at that time adopted as his motto: “Labor Omnia Vincit.” He has truly exemplified this, not only in the realm of Arts and Sciences, but in Matrimony as well, though it required five years for a happy consummation of the latter, nevertheless we are convinced that the unification will be propitious. George is a congenial, likeable fellow, always courteous to his superiors, mindful of his associates and considerate of his inferiors. In the true sense, a gentleman four-square. If the present accomplishments are any indication of the future success, he has already attained it.
Alton C. Echols
BLACKSTONE, VA.

"Eck"
Chl Zeta Chl.

"Eck," as he is known to his many friends, is soon to be let loose on the unsuspecting populace of Blackstone. But those who may be crazy enough to come to him will not leave his office unaided, for this young physician has proved himself a real student and a true friend during his stay in college. Although a hard worker, "Eck" has always found time to have dates, and has made quite a reputation for himself as a sheik. He has a good line and knows how to use it, as it is shown by the cases of heart trouble he leaves behind him. We are glad to have been a fellow student with "Eck," and wish him success in all his undertakings.

WALTER CARLTON ELLIOTT
WINFALL, VA.

"W. C."

Phi Beta Pi; B.S., University of Richmond; University of Richmond Club.

"W. C." is another product of the University of Richmond, and, from his work while there, we decided he would "go big" in medicine. And his subsequent records have proved this to be true. Elliott is an excellent student and a real-fellow-well-met. He has shown himself to be a true friend, with a happy smile and a cheery word for all he meets. It has been whispered about that W. C. is going to join hands with Dr. Willis in surgery, as he and Dr. Willis are such close friends. Good luck, Elliott, we know you will make good.
Linwood Farley
MANNBoro, VA.
"Lin"

Theta Kappa Psi; R.S. University of Richmond; University of Richmond Club.

Linwood hails from the stately old county of Amelia, and in the fall of '24 started in at M. C. V. with the set determination to efficiently prepare himself for the practice of the healing art. With diligence and dexterity, he has maintained a high position in his class, winning the respect and admiration of his classmates as well as his professors. His wonderful personality and high ideals for the better things of this world have secured for him a host of friends. He is especially admired for his steadfastness, high moral character, the love he has for his chosen profession, and his ability to take a joke. Irrespective of the branch of service he may enter, we predict for him the highest of achievements and success in the vocation he loves best.

Max Myers Fields
CASTLEWOOD, VA.
"Steve"

Chi Zeta Chi; Southwest Virginia Club; Interne Club.

"Steve" comes to us from the hills of southwest Virginia, where men are men, dogs are police dogs and all good girls have a hard time. Quiet, unassuming and congenial, with modesty and quiet dignity marking every social and professional move, with a mind scientifically searching for the truth in all his studies. "Steve" flashed like a meteor into the intellectual realm of our freshman year and has scintillated ever since. He has the wonderful ability of making himself well-known and mixing with the public, but his falling characteristic is his inability to recognize the faces of our leading lady doctors. But he remembered very vividly Dr. Haskell, when asked, "Mr. Fields, haven't I met you somewhere before?" "Steve" is a man that we heartily recommend to suffering humanity.
WILLIAM FRANK FITZHUGH
COLONIAL BEACH, VA.

"Fitz"
Phi Rho Sigma; Theta Chi Delta; Varsity Baseball, '24-'25-'26; Class Athletic Representative, '25-'26; Manager Basketball, '26-'27; President Athletic Association, '27-'28; Interne Club; German Club; R.O.T.C.

"Bill," better known as just plain old "Fitz," comes from William and Mary, and, since he has been with us, has carved his name in the hall of fame of old M.C.V. "Fitz" doesn't claim to be a dashing Lothario, but on all the athletic trips, well—— If there is a man or woman who doesn't love, worship, esteem or admire "Bill" we haven't found them yet. With all of his athletic and shucking abilities, he is still an able student and is capable of great things. "Fitz," we are proud of you and we are sure that you will succeed in your chosen profession.

ELLIOIT DENNIS FLOYD
BRIDGETOWN, VA.

"Elliot D."
Phi Beta Pi; Varsity Baseball, '24-'25; Honor Council, '24-'25.

Four years ago this young man from the "wilds" arrived and took his place in the very best class ever graduated from old M.C.V. (It is said even E.C.L. and Dr. Charlie admit it.) Though not an habitual burner of the midnight oil, except on certain occasions, he has demonstrated his ability from "Brodie's" bones to McGavock's "D. & S." There is not enough room to enumerate all of "E. D.'s" achievements, but among the outstanding are his diplomacy with the "wimmen," and we must admit that, from all information garnered, they simply can not resist. An athlete of no mean ability, but we can't decide in which he is most proficient, African Golf or Baseball—as he has an armful of letters from the latter we will take a chance on that. Seriously, Floyd is a good student, even if he does not allow medicine to interfere with his social life. He is a jolly good fellow and an all-round sport. We will miss him, but predict that the Eastern Shore will greatly benefit by his stay at M.C.V. We wish him all success and happiness.
JAMES WOOD FRAZIER
GREENVILLE, KY.

"Jim"

Jim hails from the state noted for its blue grass, beautiful "wimmens," fine horses and good whiskey. What more can be said of any man? Jim has always shown the do or die spirit and with his practical type of mind we feel sure he will succeed. The Class of '28 wishes you success, happiness and a long life in which to enjoy it. Here's luck to ole Jim.

ANTONIO G. Gandia
TOA BAJA, PORTO RICO

"Tony"

The Class of '28 feels that it has been more than fortunate in having Tony with it for the full four years. He has been a good student, a hard worker and a true gentleman. Tony is always full of fun and a good time, and is always ready for a good joke or game. The Isle in the Sunny South should be proud to claim Tony, for he has stood high in his scholastic work as well as his other attractive qualities and is sure to succeed wherever he goes. We can highly commend him to suffering humanity.
WALTER R. GLADDING
CAPE CHARLES, VA.
"Walt" "Gloomy Gus"
Phi Rho Sigma; Inteme Club; University of Richmond Club; Eastern Shore Club; William and Mary Club; Phi Delta Omega.

Cape Charles is proud of this, her son. Sir Walter!! He became versed in the gentle arts and sciences at the University of Richmond and at William and Mary. Hence to M. C. V. Indelibly written on the minds of every medical student are his Anatomy days, the first days, the grinding days, and discouraging days. Walter knew them all—yet with it all, never forgot his smile and glad word. He was an old-time plugger, not only in these days, but in the succeeding, and it is by his work, interest and application that he will make the name for himself that awaits him in his chosen profession. And so, to Walter, this master mind, the courageous, we wish the best and expect big things of you.

ANGEL FERNANDO GOLDEROS
GUAYANILLA, PORTO RICO
"Goldie"

Omega Upsilon Phi; University of Richmond Club; R. O. T. C.

Halt! Here is a model for any man. "Goldie," with his charming personality, pleasing ways and astounding ability, has made a name for himself and is a favorite with the sons of M. C. V. Goldie came to us from the sunny hills of Porto Rico, and, after completing his pre-medical work and retaining his ambition for more knowledge, especially as regards the "Healing Art," joined the Class of '28. Through years of arduous effort, this invincible character has claimed a place among his classmates as a good student and a real friend. It has been a real pleasure to have him with us during these four years of hardships and we hope that his success in Medicine will be as great as he has been with us a friend.
PERCY C. GRIGG
HADDONFIELD, N. J.

"Perce"

Kappa Sigma; Phi Chi; President Y. M. C. A.; Class Basketball.

Percy is truly a Virginia Gentleman, even though he did come from New Jersey. He has been loyally upholding all phases of College traditions and activities. Besides his school duties, he has been very active in social service work in the Community Centers of the city. As an expression of the esteem and respect with which he is held by the student body, he was honored with the presidency of the Y. M. C. A. After his Junior year he became so energetic that this country could not hold him, so he forthwith shipped himself to Labrador to play with the Eskimos. Of all that's fine in those we like to call friends, the best is personified and presented to us in Percy.

HARVEY BERNHARDT HAAG
RICHMOND, VA.

"Harvey"

Omega Upsilon Phi; Phi Delta Chi; Sigma Zeta; President Interfraternity Council, '27-'28; German Club; Ph.D., Medical College of Virginia.

Of all men in the Senior Class, we can easily rate Harvey as the leader of them all. A fine personality, a winning way, coupled with an excess of brains and real intelligence, show Harvey to be well equipped to show the road to those coming in. Harvey intends to use all of his fine qualities in teaching the younger generations in the art of Pharmacology, and we are more than sure that he will succeed in all that he attempts. We are proud to have known him and wish him all the success in the world.
J. J. Edward Haboush
Richmond, Va.

"Eddie"

When once the pent-up energy within this smiling young man turns into accomplishment the latent talent of its possessor, this school, and yea, even the very world, may yet bend in obeisance to this curly-haired youth. Eddie, as he is known to us all, is liked by everybody. To native shrewdness and common sense, our friend brings a student's brain, a scientist's heart, and a genial good nature. Such a combination, when once it sets out for the accomplishment of good, is hard to beat. When he graces us with his presence, Eddie is rather hard on our cigarettes, but he has promised to return them all with interest. We look for big things from this boy providing that the luck he deserves stays with him, as all of us wish it may do.

Wilbur Henson Hale
Narrows, Va.

"Songbird"

Phi Beta Pi; Revelers; University of Richmond Club.

This cherubic young man, who is one of the most popular in the Class of '28, has grown in estimation by his varied accomplishments. From shy Freshman to stalwart Senior, his silvery tenor voice and pleasing manner has endeared him to all of us. He has taken a leading part in the social gatherings and is one of the mainstays of the Revelers. In all of this, his classwork has been worthy of recognition. Luck to you, Wilbur.
STAFFORD ODELL HANDY

STUART, VA.

"Darling" "Staff"

Phi Chi; Phi Kappa Sigma; German Club; Southwest Virginia Club; University of Richmond Club.

This five-and-a-half-foot specimen of pulchritude hails from the southwestern section of Virginia, and, after "boyfully" struggling through four years of Medicine and four years of Richmond's feminine hearts, we now hail young Staff as Dr. Handy. Despite fatal blue eyes, dimples and curly brown hair, "The Boy" has a sunny personality, a winsomeness of manner and a level head of utter dependability, which truly serves as a good storehouse for knowledge. We hope for Doctor Handy he may ever be possessed of his companion, "Lady Luck"; we suggest to him to specialize further in "heart troubles" and we feel he will never fade in our memories as his success increases through older life.

OSWALD F. HEDLEY

RICHMOND, VA.

"Triple Threat"

Alpha Kappa Kappa; B.S. University of Richmond; University of Richmond Club; Manager Baseball, '28; Sigma Zeta.

Oswald is a local product, having garnered his pre-medical training and knowledge at that Westhampton institution known as the University of Richmond. His pet hobby is Militarism, otherwise known as the Army, and of this he is an ardent supporter. He has taken an interest in quite a number of activities and this well represents the type of man who can be interested in endeavors other than those directly connected with his profession. Luck to you, Triple-threat, may your tribe increase.
CHARLES H. HENDERSON
KEYSVILLE, VA.

"Charlie"
Phi Beta Pi; "X-Ray" Staff, '26; Class Historian, '25-'26; Honor Council, '27-'28; Executive Committee, '27-'28.

"Charlie," as he is known to most of the boys, came to us from Keysville after having prepared himself for a teacher at Hampden-Sidney. No longer in the boy stage, but a fully developed man with his mind made up as to what he is going to be. Charlie is one of those boys whose knowledge is indirectly proportionate to the noise he makes. M. C. V. has seldom, if ever, graduated a man more competent, one to go out and take up the duties of a physician. He has not taken any class honors, but is always ready with a full-rounded answer when it is needed. This is well demonstrated by the manner in which his advice is taken by many of those who call on him when in need of assistance. Charlie is a real gentleman, with hosts of friends, and his characteristic "Well, Hell" is always welcomed with a smile. Charlie—a scholar, a gentleman, a friend of the widows and a judge of good whiskey takes with him the best wishes of all in his class. We will be proud of him some day.

GEORGE HESS
HAMPTON, VA.

"George"
Phi Rho Sigma; Alpha Phi Epillon; Theta Sigma Chi; William and Mary Club.

George has plugged hard and has at last reached his goal. This fact will stand him in good stead when he embarks on his career as a physician. He soon displayed his qualities, which won for him the love and friendship of everyone with whom he came in contact. These qualities, combined with his intellect, are the assets which are to make him a success in the medical world. Everyone who has known George knows what a genial companion, a real friend and a pleasant acquaintance he is. We hate to see you go, Georgie, but we predict a great and good future for you.
Horace Rowe Hicks
RICHMOND, VA.

"Hicks"

Sigma Nu; Phi Rho Sigma; Omricon Delta Kappa; President Freshman Class; Captain Basketball, ’24-’25; Coach Baseball and Basketball, ’25-’28; William and Mary Club.

"Hicks," a real student, athlete and sport, is a member of the Class of ’28 that we can be proud to mention. He has worked hard to bring athletics up to the place that we have today at M. C. Y., having coached both basketball and baseball since 1925. Aside from this, he has made an enviable record in his class work. He has helped to prove that a man can do more in college than become absolutely lost in "Les Livres." "Horace," we know you are going to be a success in your chosen profession, and we, the Class of ’28, give you our heartiest good wishes for the future.

Millard Daniel Hill
SMITHFIELD, N. C.

"Red"

Chi Zeta Chi; B.S. Wake Forest; North Carolina Club.

"Red" Hill hails from the Old North State, where he received his training at Duke University and Wake Forest before coming to the Medical College of Virginia. "Variety" is his motto, not only with the schools, but with the ladies as well. He has been accused of being God’s Gift to the the Ladies. Hill is a hard worker and a good student. He has a pleasant personality and we predict for him a successful practice on his return to the Tarheel State.
Claude Velmont Hollowell
Coraapeake, N. C.
"Sunshine"

Theta Kappa Psi; B.S. Wake Forest College; North Carolina Club.

"Sunshine," as he is known to his many friends, came to M. C. V. after making a splendid record at Wake Forest, having taken his first two years at that institution. He has kept up this record work since appearing at Richmond. He is a conscientious student, a gentleman of high moral and ideals, a man both jovial and sincere, with a winning personality. Along with the above attributes, he is also a talented "ladies man." Many a fair damsel's heart suffers auricular fibrillation at the thought of this fair gentleman. It is fitting herein to assert that a man of such sterling qualities is indeed an honor to his Alma Mater and to the Medical Profession.

Wilbur Emory Hoffman
Keyser, W. Va.
"Baze"

Phi Kappa Sigma; Phi Chi; Secretary-Treasurer Class '25-'26; President German Club, '27-'28; West Virginia Club.

Baze, as his picture indicates, is neither a Politician nor a Roman Gladiator. In matter of fact, however, he is a zealous young medico, large of frame, but larger of heart. To have known him is to have had the friendship of a rare good fellow, and to have been long associated with him was to learn his genuineness, generosity and general all-round good sportsmanship. Being a true "West-By-God-Virginian," Baze knows his "oats"—also his "corn." Other hobbies of this young man are golf, gasoline buggies and g—g. Being of rather a shy, sensitive type, we leave the missing letters to those informed. A true fellow, a clean sport, a capable working knowledge, may success be EVER his!
HORNISHER

JOSEPH J. HORNISHER
RICHMOND, VA.

"Joe"

Interne Club; University of Richmond Club; R. O. T. C.; Demonstrator in Anatomy; School of Nursing; State Board of Health.

"Joe" has succeeded remarkably in combining medicine and work. Starting as a soda-jerker we could see him every night from the close of school to 12 P. M. at Huyler's. His only difficulty has been to make both ends meet, but his outside work has never interfered with his studies. Starting with anatomy, his name has been among the first and few honorably mentioned all through these four years. Well-liked by all, a thorough student, he has the qualities of a successful physician. We wish him all success.

ARCHIBALD PERRIN HUDGINS
RICHMOND, VA.

"A. P."

Omega Upsilon Phi; B.S. Davidson College; Sigma Zeta; Interne Club; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet.

"A. P." is another Richmond lad who has made good. After winning his B.S. from Davidson, he attempted to stabilize the gastro-intestinal tract for the long siege against anatomy by a rough voyage to Europe via a British tramp (steamer). Those who entered in '24 will always remember him as the man with the rabbit foot dangling from his neck and snugly tucked in his vest pocket. We don't know how much a rabbit's foot means, but we refuse to believe it was at all instrumental in the success of his Medical College career and in winning our love and respect. A. P. has shown himself to be a Christian gentleman and at the same time a true sport, a quality we all admire. With his mature judgment, independence of thought and a desire to serve, he has revealed himself in his true worth. He is a real man and will be a leader of men.
Alonzo Huffman
Huntingdon, W. Va.

"Huff"
Omega Upsilon Phi; Kappa Delta Pi; Epsilon Delta; A.B. Marshall College; West Virginia Club.

"Huff" has been with us for four long years now, and we have ever found him a good friend, a fine student and a gentleman. Quiet and unassuming at all times, diligent and hard-working, ever ready to serve in any capacity, he has endeared himself to all his classmates and professors. It has been whispered that certain ladies love to hear him recite certain "pretty nothings," and that sooner or later he is going to desert the ranks of single blessedness. But we know that whatever he goes into, he does so with all his heart and we are assured of his success in this world and possibly the world to come.

Thomas Bailey Hunter
Latrobe, Pa.

"Hunt"
Bachelor Science; University of West Virginia; West Virginia Club.

As a subject of this sketch, Bailey came to us, at the beginning of our Junior year, from the historic state of Pennsylvania, after completing his first two years' work at the University of West Virginia. His good humor and ambition have secured for him a high rank in the admiration of both faculty and students. He is capable of profound thinking and keen judgment, which will enable him to be a son of which old M. C. V. will be proud. Good luck, Bailey.
WYCLIFFE CHARLES JACKSON
AMELIA COURT HOUSE, VA.
"Jack"
Phi Beta Pi; Interne Club; Vice-President Junior Class.

Jack came to us from Hampden-Sidney after completing his academic work. During his four-year sojourn at M. C. V., he has won the friendship of his fellow students. With a happy smile and a friendly salutation, he greets everyone. In view of these attributes, we can readily see why he has won his way into the hearts of his classmates. Jack has made a most creditable record in his classes, though he is firmly convinced that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. With the ability to act quickly, think quickly, and a determination to dig deep into the mysteries of medicine, we predict a great future for our Jack.

NORBOURNE BERKELEY JETER
BELONA, VA.
"Jete"
Theta Kappa Psi; University of Richmond Club.

Jeter hails from Powhatan county, where friends are friends and never a truer statement was uttered, because in him the class has found a true friend at all times. He has sailed over the stormy seas for four years, and now, as the curtain rises on his life's work, we are sure he will meet every hardship with a smile, in the light of the profession which he likes so well. He is a quiet sort of fellow on first acquaintance, but aggressive in every task to which he turns. His work here has proved, at all times, that anything worth doing was worth doing well. His friendly smile and open ways will inspire the confidence of suffering humanity. We wish you success in every way, Jete. It is sure to be yours, and you will hold your honors well.
Edward Carlisle Joyner
Suffolk, Va.

"Ed"
Theta Kappa Psi; Chi Beta Phi; Associate Editor "Skull and Bones," '26-'27; Editor-in-Chief "Skull and Bones," '27-'28; William and Mary Club.

We have in Ed another prominent character coming to us from William and Mary College. Days other than those spent in Williamsburg and Richmond were spent in the land of many peanuts and mosquitoes, i.e., Suffolk, Va. He must have learned to smoke while just a mere lad to keep the pests away. We have all looked at and marveled at the beautiful smoke rings Ed could make while acquiring medical knowledge in the lecture hall. His pleasing personality, ability and intense interest in the art and science of medicine makes him one of the outstanding members of our class. With such a record as his, we know there is a prosperous and useful future before him, and we wish him the best of luck after he departs hence.

Fred Yadkin Ketner
China Grove, N. C.

"Fred"
Chi Zeta Chi; B.S. Wake Forest College; North Carolina Club.

Freddy came to us from the old Tar Heel State, bringing with him an enviable record from Wake Forest as a gentleman of high ideals, good morals, a conscientious worker, and a student that can't be surpassed. Let us say, Freddy, that we are proud to know that during your two years' stay at M. C. V., you have acquired those more than desirable characteristics. With a kind heart and a cool mind that too few possess, while in contact with his patients, makes us know that he is keen and has sincere interest in his profession and a tenacity that knows no defeat. Freddy, you have proven that you are made of the stuff that wins and success only can come your way. So we wish you good luck, along with goodbye, and may you strut your stuff forever.

"Dot"

Theta Gamma Upsilon; Reporter Theta Gamma Upsilon, '27-'28; Violin Soloist Revelers.

"Dot" came to M. C. V. from New York University at the tender age of nineteen—rather young to battle with the intricacies of a medical career. But she has come off victorious, as she will in anything she undertakes, as she has the qualities of both perseverance and thoroughness. Her ability at the violin, and her clever pen sketches, particularly the rear view of one of Virginia's most famous dill-pickers, have furnished a pleasant diversion from the routine of studies. Our only regret is that Dot will practice in New York, and not in good old Virginia. However, our very best wishes go with her.

"Al"

Such a versatile, unassuming character, every inch a man: to his fellow classmates, always genial, jolly, never serious on his first approach and yet so diplomatic that his is invariably the ruling hand. To really know "Al" is to appreciate his earnestness and serious endeavor, which must lead to success. As a pal, he is true, encouraging, brotherly and inspiring; he advises with wisdom far beyond his years. He meets disappointment with an open, smiling countenance; disappointment is an interred past. But yet, Dr.—yes, we'll put his picture in the "Hall of Fame." Although not a participant in school activities, he is a loyal supporter of the "M. C. V." Truly he exemplifies the highest ideals of man to fellowman.

"Dill"

Pi Kappa Alpha; German Club; Treasurer of Class, '24; R. O. T. C.; Director Dramatics, '26; Revelers; Class Basketball; Varsity Tennis; Manager Tennis, '26-'28; Secretary Y. M. C. A., '27; "X-Ray" Staff, '27.

This elongated gentleman with the horse-collars and the loud necktie is known as the famous "Dr. Dill," not because he is a chronic dill-picker. Oh, No!!, but simply because he doesn't. Allen does love to have a good time, and verily he even goes Dan Cupid one better when with the ladies. In spite of all these handicaps, our friend is SOME student, and is always found to be among the leading grades at the end of the semester. His jolly good nature and the ease with which he makes friends are among his most admired characteristics. We are sure he will succeed in whatever he attempts and M. C. V. bids him farewell with all good wishes for the future.

"Doc"

Chi Zeta Chi; President Class, '25-'26; Member Interfraternity Council; West Virginia Club; Cotillion Club; Business Manager "X-Ray," '28.

The hills of West Virginia are responsible for this product and rightly should be proud of him. He is imbued with all the attributes that go to make a man of the highest calibre. "Doc" is a quiet, gentle, good-natured fellow whose actions speak for themselves. He is always ready to do a favor or lend a helping hand to the needy. Now, we can see why he has such a host of friends among his classmates and all others who have been so fortunate as to know him. His activity on various committees and other school activities is only another evidence of his popularity. A man of sober mind, a deep thinker, a thorough student and with a class record that is a credit to M. C. V., your success is assured, "Doc."

"Doug" has been with us through the fight and we have learned to admire and respect him. His quiet and retiring manner has prevented us from becoming well acquainted with him, one of our most successful students. You leave our class with the very best wishes of '28, and may your success in your chosen profession rival or surpass your success at dear old M. C. V.

"Dick"
Phi Chi; "X-Ray" Staff, '28.

"Myxoedema Love," so called because of the striking resemblance which is apparent between his scalp and the glistening hide of certain Mexican canines, has been with the class since its entrance in 1924. Previous to his debut in our midst, he had pursued the mysteries of Medicine in halls other than our own, but decided that M. C. V. was the place where one could gather knowledge. Well do we remember his entrance into the amphitheatre on the day we had assembled to hear our first lecture on anatomy. It was, indeed, a noticeable event, what with the youthful face and manner coupled with a dearth of that living excrescence which is at once the barber's bane and existence, and an absence of which is usually associated with the declining years of one's earthly career. Dick, however, has been a serious student and it is our firm conviction that, in the years to come, our friend of the shining pate will become one of the world's most eminent physicians. Luck go with you, friend, we know you will succeed.

"Mac"
Nu Zeta Nu; B.S. University of Mississippi.

Mac, as he is commonly known, came to us from the far South, entering M. C. V. at the beginning of his junior year. Since knowing Mac we have greatly raised our opinion of the people of his home state. During his junior year at M. C. V., Mac decided that two could live as cheaply as one, so he deserted the ranks of bachelorhood and took unto himself a wife. Needless to say that this alliance has greatly curtailed his activities with the members of the other sex, with whom he has an unusual influence. We are certainly glad to have known and include the man as one of our friends. As a student, he stands high in our regard; but it is for his gentlemanly behavior and never-failing good will and friendship that we like him best. Mac is sure to make good and will succeed greatly in his chosen profession.

"Abe"
Chi Zeta Chi; University of Richmond Club.

Abe, deciding to uphold the family tradition by studying medicine, came to us, in the fall of '24, fully determined to carry on the ideals entrusted to him by his Alma Mater. He has proved to everyone’s satisfaction to be a loyal friend, always ready to do a favor, never interfering in affairs not his own, and who believes "the less said the better"; but when he does speak, he usually scores the point. Disregarding the advice of Paul and not having a good resistance against feminine charms, he took unto himself a wife and is now the father of "Abe III." "Abe," your success is assured and we commend you to all ailing humanity.
Andrew Joseph Merva
NANTICOKE, PA.

"Andy"
Chi Zeta Chi; Tau Kappa Epsilon; World War Service.

This Yankee came to us from the University of Maryland in his sophomore year. In his term at Maryland, he completely exhausted that font of knowledge. We welcomed him to our midst and he has been a real cham, with a pleasant smile always, and a nice word for everybody. But, we are afraid Cupid is at his heels and "Andy" will be kidnapped this leap year. He has never found it necessary to "dill-pick" his way along, just a few hours with the midnight oil and his quiz grades were second to none. As a student, he reflects credit on his class and we are sure that he will be a most successful doctor.

"Ed"
Phi Rho Sigma; German Club; B.S. Washington and Lee; Interne Club.

Eddie hails from just outside the Quaker City, and he surely knows his oats. He is one of those quiet-mannered chaps who know what they are going to do and do it well. His winning personality and high ideals are going to carry him a long way on the road to success. As for his girl friends, he is very careful, yes, indeed!! There is a rumor that Eddie hires a detective to get a line on them. We feel that he is going to be a success in his chosen profession—especially in ophthalmology (eyez-eyeze). Eddie can tolerate an undue amount of kidding, and he takes it like a man. We wish him all the success in the world.

Mongy came to us from Yale with an enviable record and has lived up to all expectations. He served his country during the World War, both in this country and in France. As a soldier of medicine, Mongy has been of high rank and has availed himself of every opportunity to do exceptional work. His wonderful personality, winning smile and thorough knowledge of the subject makes him fully prepared for a successful future.

"Greasy"
Omega Upsilon Phi; B.S. University of Richmond; University of Richmond Club.

in '24 there came to us from Saluda (God's Country) a curly, blonde-headed youth, known to us as Greasy. He at once waded into Anatomy with a determination to find out what it was all about, and when the term ended he stood well with the "Uppers" of his class. He has not quit yet, but kept on and it has been a pleasure to follow him, admiring those fine qualities which marked him a student and a friend of the truest kind. Though Greasy has many good points, let us go on record as saying that next to eating he would rather play bridge. We commend him to suffering humanity and shall remember him with the truest esteem.
EUCLID O'NEIL

"Jack"
Alpha Phi Epsilon; Phi Rho Sigma; William and Mary Club.

Jack is one of the celebrities of the Senior Class and can be seen, at any time, walking down the hall with that perpetual smile. It is the type of smile that sends out a message of good will and friendship to all. He has a distinctive character and to know him is to like him well; his ideals, his sincerity and pleasing personality go to make an honest-to-goodness man. A good student, but he has not neglected the social side of college life and has endeared himself to many a Richmond flapper who will hate to see him go to fields unconquered. We hate to lose you, Jack, but wish you all the success you deserve.

"Ben"
University of Richmond Club.

"Tis he, yes, 'tis he of whom I write. I don't know, but guess him to be the youngest in our class. When, just four years ago, he came to old M. C. V., all of us liked him, and, as the time together passed, we learned to love him for his sterling qualities. Every inch a gentleman, and one whose ambitions and aspirations are of the highest. Much more could be said, truthfully, about our friend and colleague, but suffice it to say:—

"None know him but to love him,
None name him but to praise."

John Atkins Proffitt

"Jawn"
University of Richmond Club.

It is said that "A prophet is not without honor, save in his own country," but this Proffitt need not be exported. John is a good student and an all-'round good fellow. His independent thinking, his consideration of others, and his pleasing personality have won for him the greatest esteem of his class and his college. Jawn is also a go-getter. He got "her" during his first year in college, thus placing himself among the chosen few (twelve) married in our class. Perhaps she has been the one to guide his steps so unerringly through these four years. Now that he has succeeded in reaching the goal we predict for him a great future and may all his troubles be little ones.

"Alice"
Womens Organization; Church Representative Y. W. C. A.

We are glad that Alice found out what she was missing and joined us in our sophomore year, for since knowing her we have realized how much we had missed before she came. Her gay, good humor, which gives or takes a joke with the same good nature, has endeared her to all her classmates. Her high ideals, her sincerity of purpose, and her uncompromising stand for the best things in our school life, as in other realms, has won for her the highest respect of faculty and students alike. We are wishing her, and expecting from her, the richest success in her chosen field of foreign missions.

"John"
Phi Chi; Kappa Sigma; B.S. Hampden-Sidney, '24; Omicron Delta Kappa.

It seems that the gods smiled on our good fortune in getting this son of Hampden-Sidney in our midst. It is indeed a treat to know a man whose sincerity has never been questioned, whose absolute honesty is flavored by a keen sense of humor, and whose courage never lacks in his conviction. In us, who have been so fortunate in having his presence for four years, has been ingrained that deep trust and belief in his character that we can predict his climb to success with the same assurance that he mastered anatomy and conquered that old second year. The picture of John, head above those around, smiling as he worked, will remain as indelible in our minds as our trust in his faithfulness ever.
Rufus Hurley Reitzel
SILVER CITY, N. C.
"Rufus"
Chi Zeta Chi; Athletic Representative Senior Class; North Carolina Club.

Rufus, one of the Reitzel twins of football fame throughout the Carolinas, came to M. C. V. from Wake Forest and continued to gain glory in athletics, however, directing his energies to basketball. In him is seen the unusual combination of the powerful athlete, blended with the even voice and perfect manners of a son of the old South. He is popular with all his classmates and rumor has it that he is even more popular with the weaker (?) sex. It seems that Dr. Baughman only would contend that Rufus is a "Monster," when we see the ladies flocking around. One would almost forget to wish him success, knowing that such a strong, yet so congenial a personality is sure to achieve it.

Elmer Galen Rex

"Galen" came to us from Ohio after spending his first year at College Park. Although he has been with us only three years, he has won many friends with his ready smile and charming personality. His conscientious knowledge, impressive personality, undeniable good looks, and "shotgun" prescriptions will lead him to a brilliant career. Success is yours, we are positive, and may our best wishes speed you toward your goal.

"Rich"

Chi Zeta Chi; B.A. Wake Forest College; Interne Club; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, '27-'28.

Rich joined us in our junior year, after cleaning up all the honors at Wake Forest, and has proven that he had the ability to do it. Quiet, not so talkative, but, Oh Boy!! when he does say anything, it is time to listen. He knows. It has been whispered around in dark corners that Rich is somewhat a "hound" with the ladies; we don't know, but if the little we've seen of his tactics as he escorted Alice around the halls is a sample, we must agree. There is no doubt about it; Rich will make his mark; and it is with the best of wishes for the future that we send him out to all suffering humanity.

John Randolph St. George

"Saint"

Phi Rho Sigma; Sigma Nu; Vice-President German Club, '26-'27; William and Mary Club.

"Saint" came to us from the sea-port town of Portsmouth after a brief stop of three years at William and Mary. Above is his picture, and how saintly (?) he looks we will leave to your imagination. George surely enjoys eating and sleeping; yet, in spite of this, he finds time to be a good student. This write-up would not be complete without mentioning those two assets of which he seems to be so proud, namely, one cute little moustache and his shiny hair, which is always in place. We feel sure that Saint will some day be a good and great surgeon, and we hope that he never be afflicted by the dread Alopecia.
EARLE L. SHAMBLEN

"Sham"
Nu Sigma Nu; Lambda Chi Alpha; German Club; Interne Club.

Sham came to M. C. V. with a fine pre-medical foundation, having studied at both University of Richmond and the University of Virginia. This training must have been a great asset for Sham has made an enviable record and a hard pluggin. Everyone who has had the pleasure of knowing this young man realized a real friend. His fine personality and friendly feeling toward his classmates has made him a beloved pal to all. Ambition and conscientiousness in his work stands high with this student. With these high ideals, Sham has a brilliant future in store.

FRANCES I. SEYMOUR
NEW YORK, N. Y.

"Fan"
Theta Gamma Upsilon; Organizer Women’s Organization; Ph.G. Columbia University, ’22; Ph.C., ’23; Assistant Roentgenologist Lutheran Hospital.

How useless it seems to attempt to describe one who has become so well known to M. C. V. as Fan. Her good sportsmanship and ready humor will linger long in the memories of her classmates, and her fine qualities as a student promise great success in the field of medicine. We all feel confident that with several separating Fannie and Beach life will run much more smoothly for both. We hope that when Fan opens her sanitarium it will have the same success that she has had, and Beach will not insist upon being the first patient.
Reuben Foster Simms
West Point, Va.
"Simms"
Omega Upsilon Phi; Square and Compass.

Yes, no other than the Gentleman from West Point, Va., but we can not hold that against him. He left there as soon as he could. A "well-rounded man" is Simms, not only a hard-working student, but also a pugilist of fame (see Dr. Haboush), and he is an authority on physiological antidotes. We must reveal a secret, however, and that is our Reuben has a great weakness—for ladies. That "line" of his just gets them. How he can sling that bovine animal on certain occasions! Generally though, he is a quiet, unassuming, hard-working, conscientious student, always temperate in his habits, and, above all, a friend. Success will crown his efforts, and he will some day be the noted "Dr. Simms" or there "ain't no justice."

James Alvis Soyars

"Tom"
Phi Beta Pi; B.S. University of Richmond; R. O. T. C.; Cotillon Club; Historian Senior Class; "Skull and Bones" Representative; University of Richmond Club.

Tom has been with us since we first arrived in '24, and he started off with a do or die expression on his face. Anatomy soon wiped off the expression, but Tom proved that he could DO. He has a live-and-let-live disposition, has always maintained an interest in medicine, and yet loves to tell a joke (when fitting and proper). He will always be remembered by the many old and new gags he has sprung on his unsuspecting classmates. While here, Tom has proven himself a gentleman and a scholar, and by the faithful performance of his work and his manly, upright character, he has won the respect and confidence of every man in his class. It is said that Tom is more than a sheik, his dancing and wonderful "line" being the cause of more than one attack of pseudo-angina. With his great personality and ability, we are sure that great and good things will come of Tom in the future.
Robert William Southerland

"South"
Missouri Club; Interne Club.

The noble-appearing gentleman above is one of our "immigrants," coming to us from that far country 'Bama, where dwells Florian Slappey and other nationally renowned men of color (not all of one color, however, as shown by our friend above). Bob started his Medicine at Missouri University, but soon found that climate no match for his nimble wit and so migrated to the land of sunshine and beautiful women. He was a track man for three years at ole Misson, and since he has been with us he has proved that he excels in the classroom as well as on the cinder path. He will make M. C. V. proud of him, and he leaves this institution with the very best wishes of his classmates, and the benediction of those who taught him. Good luck, Bob; may you succeed as you deserve.

"Bill"

Phi Rho Sigma; Tri Phi; Sigma Zeta; Class Basketball, '24-'26; Secretary-Treasurer Junior Class; "Skull and Bones" Staff, '24-'26; Editor-in-Chief "X-Ray," '28; President Revelers, '26-'27; Director Dramatic Club, '27-'28; Orchestra; University of Richmond Club; Interne Club; B.S. University of Richmond.

"Bill" is a fellow who does a little of everything and yet does that little well. But he still finds time to pull down grades that are the envy of his classmates; and he, at the same time, consistently "dates" that certain party. 'Tis rumored that Bill is turning Benedict in the "Near" future. Ah! me!! How frail is man after all. We never thought Bill would succumb. However, we know his success is assured. You carry our kindest thoughts and sincerest wishes from your Alma Mater with you, Bill, on your trip through life.
CHARLES HAROLD SPIGGLE
RICHMOND, VA.
"Spec"
Omega Upsilon Phi; Phi Delta Chi; Ph.G., '21.

Such a name, "Spec"; but such a fellow!! This gentleman from Woodstock (Va.) is one of that honored few who are graduates in Pharmacy; and, dissatisfied with taking orders from punk M.D.'s, decided to show them how it should be done. And we can count on Specs to do that; for, while he has never been known to miss a party (of any kind), or to stay awake when there was a chance to sleep—Specs has shown to all that still water runs deep. He stands high in scholastic averages and higher still with his winning personality. After four years' association with this man, the only change of opinion was to love him more—to realize his greater worth. Specs, M. C. V. is for you, and we know that wherever you go success will follow your trail.

ARTHUR DILLMAN STEELEY
LOUISVILLE, ILL.
"Steeley"

From Louisville, Ill., to the University of Louisville, Ky., was Steely's first venture in quest of medical knowledge. He took his pre-med work at the University and his first year of medicine. It seems that Kentucky was not far enough south, so he headed for old Virginia, where he joined us in time to enjoy the "Parties" held daily by Dr. Charlie. Steely is the proud possessor of both a wife and a large car; but in spite of them, he has been a most excellent student. We don't know, Steely, where you will go, but wherever it is, don't forget your friends at old M. C. V.
Francis Martin Teeple

Napoleon, Ohio

"Teep"

Phi Chi; Pool and Poker Club.

This short and chubby gentleman, familiarly known as "Teep," is a native of the wild and wooly West, that is in the western part of Ohio. Teep has always been a good student and a hard worker, especially since Dr. Charlie looked at him with smiling eyes and quoted "In the Spring a young man's fancy"—and in spite of the above quotation, Teep went and did it. Yes, he took unto himself a "wiff," and, in so doing, immediately showed us all that it was for the best, as his grades increased correspondingly. All in all, Teep is known to us all as a man, a scholar and a gentleman, with all the attributes that belong to each. You will succeed, Teep, in all that you undertake, and the heartiest wishes of M. C. V. go with you.

John Randolph Tucker

Richmond, Va.

"Tuck"

Phi Rho Sigma; Secretary and Treasurer Senior Class; William and Mary Club.

Tuck came to us from William and Mary and immediately began to seriously apply himself to the task of fitting himself for the practice of Medicine; but not to the exclusion of every other activity, for, in a very short while, by his congeniality, generosity and good sportsmanship, the Student Body and his friends became synonymous terms. His four-year sojourn with us has only borne out our first impressions, namely, conscientious and ambitions, a student, energetic and persevering, and, as an associate, a true gentleman. To have known him is an honor, and to have associated with him a pleasure. We all hope that in his professional career, upon which he is now about to embark, may he ever ascend the hill of success.
John Joyner Tyson
Ayden, N. C.
"J. J."
Theta Kappa Psi; B.A. Wake Forest College; M.S. Vanderbilt University.

Quiet and unassuming, Tyson is not one to try to attract attention to himself; but when it comes to delivering the goods, he is right there. He has been with us two years, having completed the first two years' work at Wake Forest, but in that time he has won the esteem and respect of all who have had the privilege of knowing him. His conscientious thoroughness and quiet confidence are sure to carry him far on the treacherous road to that glittering, ephemeral goal that we call success.

Earle Rawlings Ware
Orange, Va.
"Ware"

Theta Kappa Psi; B.S. University of Virginia.

The University may well be proud of the man and student she gave to the Medical College of Virginia. He is a diligent and earnest student, as can readily be ascertained by his high scholastic standing. However, he does not allow the class work to seriously interfere with his social activities, according to many of the Richmond girls. He has already exemplified his activity as a practitioner of the healing art in attending the needs and ailments of a large group of boys at a summer camp. Ware, although a rather quiet type of man, has made many friends among his associates during his sojourn at M. C. V. He is always ready for a good joke and will long be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to know him for his dry sense of humor. We are expecting great things of Ware, and wish him success in his chosen fields.
Thomas L. Waring
Roanoke, Va.
"Tom"

Phi Rho Sigma; Southwest Virginia Club; Interne Club; R. O. T. C.

Thomas, better known as Tom, comes to us from Roanoke College. While there he did good work both for the college and in his studies. He makes friends rather slowly, although once known he is well liked by everyone. Thus to know him is to like him. He does not dissipate to any marked degree, wine and tobacco being his worst, but it can be said that he is full of those qualities that go to make up a true gentleman. We bid Tom adieu to seek his fortune in other lands where his patients will welcome him with confidence in his ability, even as we have never been disappointed in his work. Success is yours, Tom, go and claim it.

James Peery Williams
Richlands, Va.
"Jim"

Phi Chi; B.S. University Virginia, '24; German Club.

To say that Jim is determined is a mild assertion. He is a man of conviction, patience, purpose and belief in himself and those about him. Genial and good-natured as he seems, there is a fibre of keen judgment and insight gained from a contact with varied surroundings so that he seems mature for his years. Perhaps a bit cynical, but who wouldn't be, if they'd enjoyed the same extent of feminine admirations as this six-feet-six of good build and persuasive personality? It has been a distinct pleasure to have been associated with a man of his calibre. The belief is universal among his fellows that his climb, long but rapidly sure, to the pinnacle of his desires in his chosen field will be rewarded with well-earned success.
GARLAND HUNTER WOLFE
MARION, VA.

"Hunter"

Phi Beta Pi; B.A. Emory and Henry College; President Student Body.

Dr. Wolfe happens to be the President of the Student Body, but we really cannot count this against him, for while "holding up" his office he has remained honest. He has one of the rarest qualities among Medical students—an interest in Preventive Medicine. "Do your sickness stopping early—be true to your teeth or they will be false to you"—so orders Dr. Wolfe. Hunter can work hard, think straight, and make a transfer student feel right when he comes to M. C. V. We are sure he will make good, wherever he goes. M. C. V. is proud of Hunter.

JOHN RUXTON WOOD
RICHMOND, VA.

"Johnnie"

Omega Upsilon Phi; Varsity Tennis; Manager Tennis, '27; Varsity Basketball, '26; Class Basketball (4); Vice-President Athletic Association, '27.

In September, 1924, when M. C. V. opened her doors to the incoming students, there appeared among them a quiet, unassuming, dignified youth. Though known at that time to only a few of us, "Johnnie" has proved himself to be a vital part of our class. Through his active four years on our campus, he has proved himself to be an athlete par excellence, being on both Varsity and Class basketball teams, star player and manager of the tennis teams and one of the most noted of Dr. Haskell's swimming stars. However, he is not a one-talent type of student, for he has maintained a high scholastic record and also is more or less renowned socially. He is always welcome where young people assemble for the purpose of enjoying good fellowship. Because Johnnie is endowed with a plentiful amount of natural ability and judgment, a clear thinking mind, and a winning personality, we, his classmates, predict for him a most successful career in his chosen profession.
Lacey Sheridan Wornal

"Lacey"
Phi Rho Sigma; University of Richmond Club; West Virginia Club.

Lacey came to the Medical College of Virginia from Richmond University, where he took the major part of his academic work. He also claims Roanoke College and Bluefield College as his Alma Maters. He is blessed with a remarkably cheerful disposition and has a wonderful tact of obtaining and holding friends that is possessed by but few. Since he has been with us, he has shown by his diligence and his application to work that he will make a physician who will command the respect and confidence not only of his patients, but all with whom he comes in contact. He is, in every sense of the word, a true gentleman and a loyal friend. May Aesculapius bless him and speed him onward in his chosen work.

Harry B. Yeatts
Danville, Va.

"Harry"
Alpha Chi Rho; Phi Chi; Southwest Virginia Club.

Although Harry has been with us only for the last two years of our fight for knowledge, in that time he has endeared himself to all who knew him. A fine student, a true gentleman and a wonderful pal, Harry is loyal, true, quiet and unassuming; in every sense of the word, a real Virginia gentleman. It has been a pleasure to know and to associate with him, and it is with extreme regret that we bid goodbye to such a man. Success will follow in your footsteps, Harry, and in the future days we know we shall hear great things of you.

History

The history of the Senior Dental Class is unique in many ways. It was the smallest class matriculated in the school of Dentistry in many years at M. C. V. There were only sixteen Freshmen and so it was impossible to get by with a single thing, consequently our number has diminished somewhat. The professors somehow found out how little we knew, and by process of elimination, the number was reduced to five. However, we have been fortunate in getting some capable transfers to swell our ranks.

Having related our misfortunes, we will now mention some of the things of which we can justly be proud. The Class having always been small, the individual instruction has been excellent. The courses mapped out for us have been the best and although the work has been hard and the hours long, we derived many benefits. The faculty even, admits that we are a very industrious class; anyway they assign the work on that assumption.

The greatest epoch in our history was when we started to put into practice our theoretical knowledge in the infirmary at the beginning of the second semester of the Junior year. We found it quite difficult to manipulate our fingers and to solve the mysteries of the mouth mirror. Our numerous mistakes made it rather difficult for us to convince our patients of our professional ability.

Now, as we approach the end of the Senior year, we look back with a different attitude on the days that seemed so fraught with sore trials and tribulations, for we realize that they were absolute necessities in preparation for our chosen profession. Our class appreciates what it has acquired from M. C. V., our thorough preparation, our association with fellow students and with the foremost men in our profession who constitute our Dental Faculty.
Rip, as we all know him, hails from Richlands, better known as Southwest Virginia. On entering school in the Fall of '24, we early recognized the scholastic ability of Fred; and since he has been with us, he has inspired his classmates with a desire to improve our knowledge, both in technique and in theory. Fred is awfully concerned with the ladies. To attempt even a brief on his conquests would cover more space than is allowed, but those who know Rip will well understand. Fred has won his way unobtrusively into the hearts of those who know him; and, as the curtain falls, concluding this, our last act, we know that there can exist no weak link in his chain of success. We are confident that success will come to him as he travels through the byways of life. We wish him luck and know we will hear from him in the days to come.
Powell Marion Beatty, Jr.
NEWPORT NEWS, VA.
“Pal”
Psi Omega; V. P. I. Club; German Club; President Freshman Class; Vice-President Sophomore Class; President Junior Class and Senior Class; Class Basketball.

As the leaves of this annual fall over, calling back to your memory, in the years to come, the happy, care-free days that we spent at old M. C. V., we remember Powell, a rare specimen. Pal is far above the average as a man who has been a conscientiously good scholar, a thorough gentleman and a true friend. He has that inherent power of making friends that is possessed by so few people, and to know him is to admire him. It is said that he can talk the professors into or out of almost anything. With the ladies, there is no one superior. It is clear that his wonderful personality, fluency of speech and winning smile are the causes of the fairer sex's having succumbed. We are sure that he shall prove an honor to his Alma Mater and his profession.

Millard Aubra Byrd
OAK HILL, W. VA.
“Ma”
Psi Omega; Athletic Representative, '25; President of Junior Class; Honor Council, '27-'28; New River State College.

"Ma" Byrd came to our midst four years ago from the little town of Oak Hill, after taking one year of Pre-Dental work at New River State. His ability and fine personality have won many friends, and he is gladly numbered as one of whom we are justly proud. A retrospective view informs us that his studies, as well as his social activities, have not been neglected. Thus he possesses a combination that goes hand in hand and leads to a place of success. We shall always be proud to remember him among our own men, and everyone joins in wishing him success in his chosen profession.
K. McChesney Crawford
Weyer's Cave, W. Va.

"Mac"
Phi Omega; Cotillion Club; Davidson College; President Sophomore Class; Vice-President Freshman Class; "Skull and Bones" Representative Junior Class; Class Historian; Y. M. C. A. Council.

"Mac" hails from the Valley of Virginia, and a more likable chap could not be found. He has the peculiar knack of doing much work in a short time and he does it well. We think Mac will specialize in Exodontia, and we know his success is assured in this branch of Dentistry. Maybe we shouldn't mention it, but Mac has not allowed his work to interfere with his social activities. His winning smile and pleasing personality have won him many, many friends, especially among the feminine sex. Mac may return to the Valley to practice, but it is more than probable that he will remain in Richmond, as it is rumored that he will remain at M. C. V. to aid Dr. Wash in taking care of the Exodontia Clinic. We wish you success in all your undertakings.

Spencer Harris Hayman
Huntingdon, W. Va.

"Harry"
Phi Omega; Square and Compass Club; Ohio College of Dental Surgery; Trestle Board Club.

We were indeed fortunate in getting Harry at M. C. V. The fine record he brought with him from Ohio proved that he had diligently applied himself while there. Hayman is one of those rare fellows who is not found every day. He is modest, quiet and reserved, always meeting his classmates with a smile and a helping hand. Although not so talkative, Harry is well informed on all subjects, and can offer valuable advice or comments when called upon to do so. Hayman's short sojourn here has won everlasting friendship both with the boys in college and the ladies outside. Our only regret is that he did not come to us in his freshman year. Success is bound to lie in his path, and we are all looking forward to the day when Hayman will be an outstanding figure in the eyes of the Dental World.
In the days when the "Mountain Tornado" of King College was roaring its way across the gridiron firmament, it deposited in our midst one who was promptly and properly dubbed "Terror" Hobbs. And what a terror he proved to be! Though small in stature, his attraction for ladies has been felt from the heights of Fairmount to the wooded hills of Westhampton, and from Ginter Park to Forest Hill. He has dated with the large and small, the rich and the poor, but always with the best, and has caused a fluttering in the heart of many a fair damsel. Commanding an ever-ready flow of wit and humor, a resourceful and congenial personality, and never being afraid to call a spade a spade, Hobbs has always been one of the most popular men in the Dental School. Possessing every quality of a true Southern Gentleman, it takes no clairvoyant to see that here is a man who will make his mark in this world, one who will always reflect credit upon his profession. We wish him God-speed.

Ernest Nathaniel Mason

Blackstone, Va.

"Nat"

Xi Psi Phi; William and Mary Club; Secretary-Treasurer Freshman Class; Treasurer Sophomore Class; Vice-President Student Body.

Nate decided to study Dentistry at M. C. V., after completing his pre-dental work at W. and M. During the last four years, many obstacles have beset his pathway, but he has never wavered in his determination to win a "D.D.S." From the first we were impressed with his keen interest in his work and his earnestness to learn, and he soon merited our admiration and friendship. His determination, enthusiasm and perseverance are qualities sufficient for us to base a prophecy for his successful career. We wish him the greatest success possible as he goes out in life, and know that he will always render the best service that is within him.
NELSON O. PULLY
NEWPORT NEWS, VA.

"Olaf"

Psi Omega; V. P. I.; German Club; Vice-President Freshman Class; Secretary Athletic Council, '23-'24; Athletic Council, '26-'27; Honor Council, '27-'28; Varsity Basketball; Varsity Baseball, '23-'24.

"Olaf," the hard-hearted member of the Senior Class, hails from Newport News, the harbor of a thousand ships. Pully stayed with us for two years and then dropped out for two years. Returning to us in his Junior year, he took up where he had left off, and has been going merrily on with us ever since. Pully is an athlete of no mean ability, and when M. C. V. decided to renew athletics once more, he was among the first who responded to the call. He speedily won positions on both baseball and basketball teams, and, while never a star, he gave his best for his Alma Mater. Being possessed of a rare and temperamental disposition, Pully is a hard man to know. To the majority, he is a puzzle; but to those who know him, he is all right. While slow to make friends, he holds the ones that he does make. Behind his nonchalant disposition, there is a motive of keen determination to accomplish his aim and ambition. We know he will go far and always reflect credit upon his Alma Mater and profession.

WILLIAM G. WEBB
BOWLING GREEN, VA.

"Willie"

Psi Omega; University of Maryland; Peabody Conservatory; Honor Council Sophomore Class; Secretary-Treasurer Junior Class, also Senior Class; Revelers, '26-'27.

Willie has won a coveted place in our class by his smiling disposition. His one unwholesome feature is saying "how we did things at the University of Maryland." However he soon adapted himself to his new environment. Willie is noted for his "wise-cracks," and for his peculiar humor and laugh when someone fails to accomplish the desired result in the laboratory. But in spite of the bad things we can say about the baby of our class, we have to admit that he is a jolly good fellow and has proved to be a valuable asset to our class. Along with his hot line, he is one of our best students. He believes in doing his work as it should be done and we are sure that success awaits him in his life's work.

Class History

IME is largely a matter of perspective. Three years measured by an hour-glass is an age, but three years out of eternity is a trifle. When the present Senior Class matriculated in September, 1925, the next three years stretched indefinitely before us, but now, as the time draws to a close, it seems only too short. Shall we ever forget the first few days at M. C. V.? How we stood in line for hours, waiting to matriculate; how we roamed around the building trying to find our classrooms; how expectantly we watched for our Profs and how we catalogued each other and later checked up on our good judgment?

Our Freshman year passed slowly. We were introduced to such celebrities as Galen and Hippocrates, learned to call scales "Balances," and were exposed to the U. S. P. and N. F. Inorganic Chemistry probably caused the most casualties, but some of the other subjects were contributing factors.

As Juniors, we felt confident that our troubles were over, but soon had this hopeful notion dispelled. The Seniors advised us and we were threatened and warned from a more authoritative source. Life became a nightmare—surprise quizzes, private consultations, long hours in the Chemistry Lab, research work in the Library. Somehow we managed to get through it all without missing quite all of the shows at the National and Lyric. We shall never know how it was accomplished.

Always striving to become Seniors, the goal is not so satisfying since attained. We still have to study, have our difficulties and discouragements; but we, at least, are beginning to know what it is all about. When someone casually mentions Papaver somniferum or Digitalis purpurea, we know they are not talking about a new disease, and even such words as auricular fibrillation and leukocytosis do not render us spellbound, thanks to Biochemistry, Physiology, Pharmacology and "Dispensariology." We have only the State Board ahead of us now and, armed with our sheepskins and the knowledge so carefully and painfully instilled into us, we may now be pardoned if we have high hopes of success.

But as the time draws near for parting, we cannot but feel a hesitancy, a tightening of the heart strings, a tendency to delay the final separation. Though we are loath to admit, we have enjoyed our years here, and have made many and deep friendships. We have been intimately associated with people and things which have stimulated our minds, have broadened our knowledge and indelibly stamped our characters. And it is with a sense of deepest regret that we part from these things which have so contributed to our growth and being. Only the years will tell the story, but we earnestly hope that we all may bring honor upon our Alma Mater and our profession in the years to come.
John B. Blon
Bellaire, Ohio

"John"

John is the little fellow who persists in keeping alive the memory of the "moustache club." Although coming to M. C. V. from a small town in Ohio, he has affinity for the Old Dominion, having visited most of it and having seen all the points, historical and otherwise, except Crum's Apothecary Shop. Easy to talk to, but hard to get acquainted with; nevertheless, he has a smile and a good word for everybody. He is one of the many students who urges a car (synonym—Lizzie) back and forth to school daily. Indications are that he will realize his life-ambition, which is to own and operate a strictly ethical Pharmacy after the heart of the late Sir William Jones. Here's hoping he does.

Samuel R. Firebaugh
Harrisonburg, Va.

"Sam"

Kappa Psi; A. P. A.; Honor Council; Secretary-Treasurer Student Body, '26-'27; German Club; Interfraternity Council; Executive Council; University of Richmond Club.

Sam came to Richmond from the University of Virginia, and, after a few years as one of the executives of the C. & O. R. R., he decided to study the ancient and honorable art of Pharmacy. One of the most appropriate references concerning Sam's appearance was made by one of the fair sex, who referred to him as "the sleepy-looking boy who was wide awake." He had done more for the School of Pharmacy than any one boy that has studied at M. C. V., due to his popularity throughout the student body and in Richmond. Although his last year is the present, his influence will be felt for a long time to come. To Sam we wish all the good luck possible and expect great things from him in the future.
Since "Foley" has been with us, we are convinced that not only good race-horses come from Berryville, but also good men. He is a hard-working, industrious student, and we feel sure that the success he is to achieve in the future will be due to his untiring efforts while at M. C. V. We understand that Foley is soon to embark on the Sea of Matrimony, and we wish him all the luck in the world, in spite of this fact—with all due respect to the party of the second part. It is needless to say that we shall miss him, for he has made more than a few friends while at M. C. V.

Harold Goldin

Richmond, Va.

"Goldie"

Here is truly a man who believes in the old maxim "deal at home." It is not often that a city offers such educational advantages as Richmond, where he claims his home. On arriving at M. C. V., he at once plunged into the various activities of the school, specializing in the publications, and since his freshman year has proven an invaluable aid to both "X-Ray" and "Skull and Bones." When work is to be done, and done right, he is the man for the job. His graduation will not only mean the loss of a wonderful classmate, but a loss to the publications. It will take a long time to find a man of capable ability and as thorough understanding of the task to be done to fill the place vacated by him. Good luck, Goldie.
Benjamin F. Grady, Jr.
Goldsboro, N. C.

"Shorty"

Kappa Psi; Secretary Junior Class; Baseball Team; Vice-President Y. M. C. A.; A. P. A.

Shorty hails from the good old North Carolina town, Goldsboro. He has spent some time at Wake Forest and leaves us with a B.S. degree. Shorty is a good student and more than an asset to Pharmacy. He did excellent work in baseball and is a good sport, always ready when called upon. It is said that he always hurries home to get the mail after classes!! We all have our suspicions. We all wish him the greatest of success in his chosen profession.

Warren Lee Johnson
Monita, Va.

"Johnnie"

Phi Delta Chi; A. P. A.

"Johnnie" would have made the name famous the same way that Walter has, but he decided to devote his time and life to the health of his nation. He chose Pharmacy as his calling, and it wasn't a bad choice, either. Any one who comes in contact with him will feel the magnetism of his personality, and his mirthful laugh is not soon forgotten. The Class of '28 wishes you all success, Johnnie. We know you will succeed.
W. Vernon Mayo
RICHMOND, VA.

"Mayo"
Phi Delta Chi; A. P. A.

Mayo is one of those who thought two could live as cheaply as one, so he decided to give it a trial. From all appearances, he has succeeded in more ways than one—we wish him a happy life and many—he is very proficient in his school work and never starts anything unless he intends to finish it in first-class form. We know he will succeed in eking a living from the Smith Brothers and Miss Pinkham. Mayo, we are looking at you.

Marie Scott Pole
LEXINGTON, VA.

"Marie"
Historian, '26-'27-'28; Class Representative "Skull and Bones"; A. P. A.; Theta Gamma Upsilon.

"Horas non numero nisi serenas." Marie hails from the Valley of Virginia, and is the only girl in our class. We all feel honored when she bestows a smile upon us. She is a real pal, and we truly envy the person to whom she becomes a life-time pal. She is one of the hardest workers in our class, and she justly deserves the honors that have been bestowed upon her. We wish Marie success in her chosen profession; and we are sure the profession will find a success in Marie.
R. Emerson Schofield
NEWPORT NEWS, VA.
"Drippy"
Kappa Psi; A. P. A.

"Drippy" hails from the big town of Newport News, and delights in telling us of the big ships that he has launched. But he launched on his career at M. C. V. and, during his three years, he has piloted his ship through many stormy quizzes and examinations. At last he is about to set sail on the Sea of Life, and we feel assured that he will be a capable pilot and will reach any port for which he might set sail. P. S.: We would like to know what became of "Drippy's" fraternity pin, but we are afraid this will ever remain a deep (sea) mystery.

Girard Vaclen Thompson
CHATHAM, VA.
"Vac"
Phi Delta Chi; Honor Council, '27; A. P. A.

Vaclen came to M. C. V. in a quiet, unassuming way, but he soon astonished us with his scholastic work. After he was sure that he was firmly fixed with the faculty, he began to try his luck with another line of endeavor, and, from all appearances, he has made a greater success in this direction. He will leave here to enter the profession of "pill-rolling" with his father. We wish him even greater success than he has enjoyed heretofore. We know he will do it "fore"-fold.
Simeon Owen Tolar
Rennert, N. C.
"Sim"
Phi Delta Chi; American Pharmaceutical Association.

One of the traveling salesmen from the "old North State," Simon comes from the wilds of Robinson county—a rough mama's man. After three years of hard work in varied lines, including pharmacy, we feel sure that M. C. V. has turned out a dispenser who will "make the people down home feel proud." Even if cotton does get about "twelve cents a pound," he will still remain an asset to his calling.

Jessie Roland Ward
Mt. Crawford, Va.
"Doc"
Phi Delta Chi; A. P. A.; Secretary Senior Class.

"Doc" is from the great Shenandoah and always has a word to speak for Crawford, but if he didn't say it no one would know it even existed. He is small of stature, but can let it be known that he is around. He has lived in some of our largest cities, namely, Bridgewater and New York, but he hardly mentions either. If "Doc" enters life with the determination he has taken in his "Pinkham" course, he will be the cause of many peoples' enjoying health and long life (maybe). Strive on, Jess, we are for you.

Class History

WHEN, three years ago, few in number, we gathered here to pursue our chosen profession, we gazed into the dim, uncertain future and marveled at the day when we might bask in the sunshine of Seniordom. Now that coveted distinction has been awarded us; the goal, Graduation, is approached with our hearts filled with a mixture of joy and sorrow. Sorrow at the thought of parting, associated with the day now closing; joy, hopes and eager anticipation to explore and treasure of tomorrow.

The hours spent here were mostly filled with hard work. Ours was the good fortune of having a small class; a class of such dimensions that we might almost receive individual instruction—the benefits of which we are to reap in time to come. Successes mingled with failure have been ours. The path, sometimes steep and rugged, has ever led onward. Our three years will soon become a page in memory’s book; a page to which we hope to turn with pride. The raw material is no more—may the finished product stand the test of time!

As the shades of evening gather on our student days, we pause a moment with regret that it is over. A new day approaches, our dreams have come true, we enter the school of life with interest. Perhaps we aim too high. Even though we miss the work a little, it has been worth it.
Lucy Gladys Harriss

Wise, N. C.

Manager Basketball Team, '27; Secretary and Treasurer Junior Class; Revelers, '26-'28; President Senior Class.

"A rare compound of oddity, frolic and fun,
To relish a joke, and rejoice at pun."

Behold, ladies and gentlemen! Step right up front and don’t shove—room for everyone. Allow me to introduce Lucy, a product of Wise, N. C. She is a favorite of the class and rightly so, because she always has a cheery smile and doesn’t know the meaning of fussing. There is no doubt as to Lucy’s success in the nursing profession. She will certainly be a credit to this honorable calling. Luck to you, “Lucy.”
"Pat" hails to us almost directly from the "land of Shamrocks," with only a short pause in New York to visit friends and relatives. Her mind was made up to join us in our struggles with practice and theory at M. C. V. Her winning personality and charming Irish brogue quickly won hosts of friends and admirers, while her conscientiousness, unselfishness and natural love of her profession rapidly won for her a place in the hearts of fellow pupils, patients and doctors. An energetic student endowed with qualities which lead to success. We do not know what "Pat" intends to do, but wherever she goes, whether in this land or her home across the sea, she takes with her our lasting affection and very best wishes for success always.

MARY ELMER CAMPBELL
SANFORD, N. C.
"Mary"

"With her high ambitions we read Success."

"Mary," we wish to say with your earnest mind, your modest and dignified manners, M. C. V. will be proud to send forth a woman so loyal to her profession. We will miss you, but you carry from each of your classmates sincere wishes for success in the old North State.
Janie Duck
Waters, Va.
"Quack"
Honor Council, '27-'28.
"True worth is in being, not seeming."

"Miss Quack" hails from Waters, Va. While small in size, she has determined to be a R.N., and has been untiring in her efforts to realize her ambitions. Her motto has been "Love 'em all, but don't lose your heart to any of 'em," so she is still heart and fancy free. Here is luck to you, Duckie; and whether you find your life's work in nursing or in housekeeping, we know you will give it the best there is in you, and, in doing this, you cannot be but successful.

Bessie Mozetta Harrell
Ewie, N. C.
"Bessie"

She never troubles trouble unless trouble troubles her. The state just to the south of us has again blessed us by sending to M. C. V. such a girl as Bessie. Her winning smile will ever brighten the darkest gloom that sickness casts over some unfortunate soul. Nothing will deter her from the goal that lies just beyond the reach of ordinary woman. We wish her the greatest success and happiness possible for any one to achieve, and we know that wherever she goes she will render the best service that is within her.
Edna Mashburn
Marion, N. C.
"Mash"
Class Historian, '26-'27.
Edna is a person who makes friends wherever she goes. She has a will of her own and chooses her friends with care. She is jolly, musical, and smiles under all circumstances. In 1927 she was made Class Historian—"Mash" is fond of reading and sometimes thinks more than she speaks. She has endeared herself to her classmates and has the best wishes for her success and happiness in her work.

Thelma Moore
Richmond, Va.
"Thelma"
Secretary-Treasurer, '27-'28.
"True to herself, true to her friends, true to her duty always."

The city of Richmond contributed "Moore," and that city may well be proud. She is always ready to do her best. A better friend one could not find. Her lovable personality, friendliness and outstanding qualities will win success for her. May our best wishes speed you on to that goal.
Birdie Riddle
raleigh, n. c.

"Birdie"
Vice-President Y. W. C. A., '25; Secretary-Treasurer, '26; President, '26-'27; Class Historian, '27-'28; Honor Council and Executive Committee, '27-'28.

"Loyal of heart, strong of mind,
A finer girl you'll never find."

Combined into one lovable bit of femininity are the characteristics possessed by "Birdie." Her quietness and accommodating good nature have won for her a place in the hearts of her associates. Many a gentleman's heart suffers Atrial Fibrillation at the thought of this young lady with the honest smile. When "Auld Lang Syne" is played, and she starts back to the old North State, M. C. V. is sending out a daughter of whom she can justly be proud.

Juanita Rudder
south boston, va.

"Rudder"
Secretary Y. W. C. A., '27; "Skull and Bones" Representative, '28.

"Beloved of all, to all a friend in need,
And loving, she is a friend indeed."

Sweet personality, full of rascality—that is "Rudder." There is an old saying that "blue eyes just naturally ask for love, and get it." Whether it is her blue eyes or something else, we do not know. But it is true that every girl at M. C. V. has a warm spot in her heart for "Rudder." Here's hoping that your career will be full of happiness and success.
Celenia Shopoff
FREDERICKSBURG, VA.

"Celenia"

Celenia is very quiet. She possesses that quality of being a good listener who says little but does much. Her quiet but congenial friendliness has won many friends for her. Dan Cupid is hurling missiles in her direction, and she is sure to require the services of a preacher soon. Just remember, "Celenia," that when you go out into the world, you carry with you the esteem and affection of your classmates who have been glad for the intimate association with you during these three years.

Mary Kate Thompson
HALLSBORO, N.C.

"Tommy"

Captain Basketball Team, '26.

"Love 'em all, but don't lose your heart to any of 'em."

Three years ago North Carolina shed briny tears as she bade farewell to "Tommy." "Tommy" has taken an active part in college activities and yet has found ample time to do her work well—and not altogether neglect the opposite sex. We are assured of your success "Tommy," and we shall always be more than proud to number you among our own.
Juniors
Junior Class in Medicine

History

HE former historians of the Medical Class of '29 have in other chapters acquainted the readers with the major events in the life of the class since it sprang into being in September, 1925. That is in the past. In September, 1927, there was an influx to the Medical College of Virginia of those who had but recently been but mere Sophomores. Now that vile name is a matter of the past, no longer were we guilty of such an epithet, NOW we were Juniors. Gone the daily laboratory grind, past, but not forgotten, the bacilli, cocci, dogs, frogs, cats. Men we were becoming and had put away such childish things. From all points of the compass we gathered, giving to each other the glad hand, and hurriedly relating the experiences of the Summer, marching boldly to the window and paying Miss Darden as little as possible. Then feeling very, very poor we began to settle down to work.

We discovered when we were assembled for the first time that some of our members were absent. That saddened us, but we were happy to find the broken places in the rank well filled with men from Wake Forest, University of North Carolina, University of West Virginia, and numerous other places. We greeted these men and tried to make them feel at home. Then books had to be bought. Big, thick, heavy, costly books. And we were still poorer. It's a secret, but as the year is now past it doesn't matter. We didn't buy all of the books. We couldn't do that and still stay in school. The work was so different from what we had formerly known. Soon we realized that this year we were to get the real subjects for our future practice. Each lecture meant not so many more notes, but a real step forward to our ultimate goal. The daily work lost much of its routine monotony, and the work in the dispensary gave a new meaning to it all. We were now in the midst of our life work.

We were glad to be one of the first classes to have Dr. Porter as a full-time Professor of Medicine. We believe a new milestone has been reached in the onward journey of M. C. V. On November 4, however, the Class was shocked and saddened beyond words when we learned of the fatal accident to our friend and classmate, Joseph S. Bradley, Jr. We had but recently taken him gladly into our ranks from the University of West Virginia, and our hearts went out in sympathy to the bereaved family.

And now the end approaches; the year has been short, but the quizzes and exams hard. The path was not all roses, but we have enjoyed it. Only one more year and we hope to cast our lot with those who have gone before us.

Junior Class in Dentistry

CLASS HISTORY

When we enrolled at M. C. V. as Freshmen we didn't realize what was in store for us. We all had a sincere desire to become dentists, but how and why we should accomplish this task, we had not the faintest idea. The faculty seemed to sense our insecure feeling, for they nodded their heads and smiled, and proceeded to lay out a stiff curriculum for us. The result was that the following year, there were just twenty-six enrolled as Sophomores in comparison with the past year's thirty-six Freshmen. While we were losing some of our original members, we were also adding others to our list. R. S. Jones was one of our newcomers, and this year Zacks and Willis were welcome additions.

The Junior year is proving to be quite a contrast to the first two years. We are trying to break away from most of our bad habits, such as keeping late hours and joining the Y. M. C. A., and there seems to be a smaller number loafing around Murphy's every evening. This year we are given an opportunity to display our skill on patients, which we have tried so hard to develop in the laboratories, and so far no patients have been reported thrown on the floor during the process of adjusting the chair in the Dental Infirmary. However, the hand mirror still remains a mysterious little instrument and one we avoid whenever possible. We hope some day to find a better use for this article than to hand to an instructor to examine our work.

We realize we are on the threshold of our life's work, having our first taste of practical experience, under competent instruction and we expect to look back on our Junior year in M. C. V. with the greatest pleasure.

Junior Class in Pharmacy

CLASS HISTORY

On Tuesday, September 13, 1927, an enthusiastic group of students matriculated at M. C. V., to continue their studies in Pharmacy as members of the Junior Class. The previous years' work had been so faithfully performed that a feeling of confidence in their ability had replaced the timidity of the previous year.

There were several familiar faces missing from the class, these, perhaps, having found something more appealing than Pharmacy for their life's work. Early in the session the class organized and elected officers, and all the members seemed to be desirous of working for the best interest of the class and of the school. Some new subjects were taken up, among them, an entirely new course in the school—a combination of Materia Medica combined with Pharmacology and with "sidelines." In this new class of "Millerology," the Juniors were granted the special privilege of meeting, on equality, with the dignified Seniors—this meeting was not so thoroughly enjoyed for such words as "Parasyntetico mimetic," etc., often fell upon seemingly deaf ears.

Then Economics problems served twice weekly proved to be quite a strain upon our limited field of vision into the business world. However, we are all striving, and as a class, earnestly hope to pass, one hundred percent, into the Senior Class of 1928-1929.

Junior Class in Nursing

CLASS HISTORY

In March, 1926, our class began, and month by month we came and went—from North and South, East and West—roaming school girls, weak and strong. Unorganized, we struggled and worked through to our Freshman year, growing closer together and nearer to our goal. We also note with our struggles an upward progress; a college progress, a building progress, new thoughts, new achievements, new ideals.

Juniors we are, proudly striving to reach our ideals, organized a class so strong and true to each other, that a stronger cannot enter. Eighteen strong we stand, surrounded by bonds of friendship, we fight for our rights, we scrap for co-operation. Our College progresses, our class progresses, the world is moving on—so are we. "We came, we saw, we are conquering."

In enumeration of changes which have taken place since 1926:

1. The School of Nursing has been recognized as the fourth School of the Medical College.
2. The School of Nursing has been accepted into the Student Body.
3. The treasurer of the Student Body is now elected from the School of Nursing.
4. The School of Nursing has their representatives on the Honor Councils.
5. The Nurses are taking an active part in athletics this year. Proof of this lies in the fact that they have an unusually good team this year, the first one.
6. On January 21, 1928, the cornerstone of Cabaniss Hall was laid (new nurses' dormitory), which is the beginning of the building program of the college.
7. A new method of practical training and theory has been instituted which will be a great help to those who follow in our chosen profession.

As a result of these changes, the nurses have taken a much greater interest in the Medical College of Virginia and its activities.

CLASS HISTORY

OR fear of leading you to believe that we possess any of those undesirable characteristics which are usually attributed to the "Lordly Sophomores" of the academic college, we wish to refrain from anything which may sound like egotism. We know that we have a handsome class; we know that we have a brilliant class, a class conspicuous by its outstanding qualifications; but we will leave these things for you to judge. In the years to come, you will have ample opportunity. As the fleeting years pass on, in the high lights of medicine the names of many of the members of this class will shine out with undying fame. And in the politics of the country, too, will their names resound. As long as government, in its ignorance of medicine, has the power to regulate the administration of drugs, the medical man has the right and duty to participate in politics.

We have lost a number of our classmates since we started out last year. Some became discouraged, others decided they were fitted for other vocations in life; and the class has diminished to sixty-seven of the original eighty-seven. We have about ten transfers who are doing their best to make up for those lost. We were sorry to lose our old classmates, for they were all Pals. We are happy to have the new ones, for we believe they will be an honor to any class.

"Blest be the Tie that Binds" might be a very appropriate slogan for our class, for if ten years from now we should meet in Kalamazoo, the incidents of the morning when Dr. Charlie entertained would be as alive in our memory as when they happened. More so: for then we could laugh freely, without the sudden attacks of cerebral dissociation with which so many of us were affected. The pleasant drawling tones we know so well . . . "Mr. Yeatman, now just what do you know about aphasia?" . . . it seems so strange how promptly those words could produce every sign of said aphasia.

We have enjoyed the work of the past two years—also the pleasures. The dances, the smokers, the dates, the parties, the exams; all of them help to form pleasant memories. May our clinical years be as pleasant, and may they speedily roll on to the time when we shall have the right to wear, to us, the biggest title in the English language. By that time it is probable that the families of some of the class will have increased materially, as there are good prospects of the same in sight. But the greatest event that the class may look forward to is the time when they may take that little girl back home by the hand and say "I will" or "I do," or whatever it is they do say. About 99 44-100 of the unmarried ones now anticipate that event, I believe. The other 66-100 say they will remain bachelors.

CLASS HISTORY

E, the Sophomore Class in Dentistry, now consider ourselves bordering on the verge of sophistication. No longer do our chests swell with pride when some one calls us "Doc." Instead, we have learned to avoid such persons, knowing they are salesmen. But alas! In spite of all our worldly wisdom, there are mysteries which remain unsolved. What is meant by "the difference between enzymes and catalysts is only a matter of degree?" Why does Kelly have such a drag in Metallurgy? What happens to our Skull and Bones each week? But the greatest of all mysteries is, why are we studying dentistry, anyway?

Though we were somewhat reluctant to enter the portals of M. C. V. last year, the passing of time finds us very much attached to it—so attached, in fact, that it seems like some of us will be here permanently. It has been rumored that several members of our class have had the good fortune to be present this year a week ahead of the opening exercises. They were extended personal invitations by the Dean for this reception.

One of the most important events recorded in the course of the first semester was the organization of that now famous society, "The Royal Order of Snakes." Our friend from Portsmouth being best fitted for the position, was unanimously chosen to the office of Exalted Potentate. Those of us who were skeptical about joining were later forced to do so for self-preservation, and the cries of our "egg-beaters" mingled with those of our brothers during Operative Dentistry period.

Our history would not be complete unless a mention was made of the tact and generalship displayed by our fat friend, who, on one occasion so loudly proclaimed the pulchritude of our esteemed instructor, "Willie," thereby placing the odds of passing in his favor. The only thing we hold against this Irish representative is the fact that he dishonors our profession by wearing a butcher's gown in all of his operative procedures.

Truly there must be much in store for certain members of our class over whom the fog of research settles so heavily—neither is this work done altogether in the school laboratories. Last summer, four from our throng ventured into the wilds of Tennessee and returned with a complete knowledge of the life, habits and customs of those individuals who populate this section. One of the four has been seen each night winding his way toward the college, whether on a quest for wisdom or merely in pursuit of a "rag, a bone and a hank o' hair," we cannot say.

More seriously speaking, it is not without a feeling of regret that we see the closing of our second year and we find ourselves halfway to the goal. In time to come, we shall look back over these days with pleasant memories, and smile when we think of the time Dr. Haskell convinced one of the members that a piece of chalk was alive because it could be moved. Again we shall see assembled around "Speedie's" table with the far reaching odor of canines penetrating our nostrils. To the members of the faculty who have so patiently toiled with us this year, we express our deepest gratitude and wishes for their continued success. Yes, classmates, two more years of work, play and griping together, and we shall know whether it was destined that we be dentists or truck-drivers.

Freshman Class in Medicine

On September 26th, two weeks after matriculation, the members of the Freshman Class in Medicine assembled in the Amphitheatre where the first great event of the year took place. The prayer "Lord God of Hosts be with us yet, Lest we forget, Lest we forget," was hushed and a mighty silence, as of death, swept over eighty-eight haggard, pale faces as the question "Give the Articulations of the following" appeared on the blackboard. After three hours of laborious effort, the Class adjourned with a spontaneous murmur—"Lord God of Hosts was with us not, For we forgot, For we forgot."

Our eyes upon that little piece of sheepskin that shall say to the world we are Doctors have never faltered, but until we reach that goal many trials and much hard study await us, though after all it is worth the work. Dr. Osterud and his associates, with an unyielding hand, have not failed to assign us great tasks, but at the same time they have labored with us and have made the path through anatomy smoother by their patient efforts to enlighten us.

We are expecting a great future but we cannot forget the pleasant memories of the past, among which are the "stiffs," the lectures on "The Sympathetic Mechanism of the Heart," by Peyton, good old soul now gone to his eternal rest, and the moving pictures in the amphitheatre. As we advance toward the goal, may we journey with unfaltering steps and may success be our reward.

Freshman Class in Dentistry

Class History

We, the Freshmen Dental Class of '31, entered upon our eventful career in September, 1927; but never do we regret the outstanding moment of entering upon this most interesting and difficult training for our life's work. Although not so many in number as the previous class, we felt ourselves equally capable of accomplishing the great task laid out before us. It has been said that we are the first dental class to enter without any conditions. Being just the average Freshmen, we did the usual things, although it does seem that we had to work much harder than anyone else until Christmas.

As we look back upon the past semester, there seems nothing but pictures of toiling hours to predominate the more pleasant ones. But there were many happy moments intermingled with those of toil, such as the Freshman Dental Dance, given before the Thanksgiving Recess.

When we came together in September and gathered here as a class, every one was practically a stranger to his neighbor. Now it is different, as he is your best friend, and the best of all thoughts is that you will be permitted to enjoy his companionship for three more years.

We are about to enter the second semester, weird and gruesome have been the tales told us by some of our friends in the Freshman medical class now in anatomy. As we have battled and struggled together so far, so will we stick together and fight Anatomy. We are sorry to say it was necessary for two of our classmates to leave us early in the year, but I can safely say again for those of us who remain that we do not regret entering upon this most interesting and different career of Dentistry.

CLASS HISTORY

On THE thirteenth of September, nineteen hundred and twenty-seven, a hopeful group of young men and women applied at the portals of M. C. V. for admission into the Freshman Class in Pharmacy. By September the sixteenth, this group of knowledge seekers had been fully introduced to Mr. Rudd, room 209, and Mr. Miller, room 602.

Although many objected, the class as a whole decided that it would be advisable to look in a textbook at least once every month, that is if they expected to rid themselves of that plague called study.

However hard the road may be, this little group of Pharmacy students are earnestly working away, and it can be safely predicted that the majority of the Class of Nineteen Thirty will graduate with honors.

Freshman Class in Nursing

CLASS HISTORY

On a bright and beautiful morning of the month of September in the year of 1927 a group of some fifty girls entered the Medical College of Virginia as student nurses. Each girl held within her heart her cherished ideals as to what training was like, and each one was decidedly anxious to begin her new life. Most of us looked to our new life through rose-colored glasses, and many of us were sadly disillusioned as we viewed Nursing in grim reality. Classes were hard, but each one of us buckled on an armor of grim determination, and took a brave step forward to reach the goal we so desired. Thus we struggled onward, but when the road became too rough to travel, Miss Reitz came to our aid, and made the journey easier.

The strife proved too hard for some few who dropped out, but the others worked faithfully onward, knowing that in the end, all the earnest workers would be rewarded. It is indeed a memorable day for us when Miss Reitz gave us our letters which told us we were accepted into the school of nursing, but the greatest thrill of all came when we received our caps.

On February 3, 1928, we met and were organized, and the following officers were elected and installed:

Annie Bell Macdonald . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . President
Ruth Miller . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . Vice-President
Virginia Lowery . Secretary-Treasurer

Even though we are now capped nurses we realize that our race has only started, and that we have before us a long, hard road of earnest toil. We look toward the future hopefully, and when we placed the caps on our heads we did so with a silent vow to give our lives to the aid of suffering humanity. Who says that the noble does not always triumph in the end.

We leave the future to unfold its leaves to us, but we believe that at the closing of the chapter, Fate spells one word for the Class of 1930, “success.”

Coach
The candidates for the 1927-28 basketball squad was called out by Coach Hicks towards the last of November, and about fifteen men responded. The prospects for a brilliant team were bright, for with three men of last year's fighting team and the great crowd of freshmen, there was material enough to gladden any coach's heart. After practicing faithfully for two weeks it seemed that the first squad picked by Coach Hicks would consist of Stull, Daniel, Butterworth, Beale, Helsabeck, Pulley and Parker.

The schedule this year was hard, even for a school with greater material and time for practice than the Medical College can present, and consisted of such schools as Richmond U., William and Mary, Catholic University, George Washington, V. M. I. and Emory and Henry. Games were also played with Randolph-Macon College, St. Johns, Old Dominion Boat Club and the Seminary. With such a schedule it is easily seen why the Sawbones did not come off with the victory end more than they did.

The team lost consistently until they played the Old Dominion Boat Club of Alexandria, Va., whom they whipped 40 to 35. However, they deserve all kinds of credit for the showing made against the other teams of championship calibre. The Medicos made a fine showing all through the season, at times making their opponents work like Trojans to overcome the lead our boys usually piled up in the first half.

The Junior Varsity also deserves lots of credit for their hard work, for without them the Varsity could never have made as creditable showing as they did.

The season of 1927 was by far the most successful that the Medical College of Virginia teams have ever witnessed. Of the fifteen games played, eleven resulted in victories, four of which were shut-outs and one of these was one of those rare occurrences in college baseball, a no-hit, no-run game. Team work was the outstanding factor in this notable accomplishment. For the first time since the re-organization of athletics at M. C. V., the baseball team worked together as a unit, rather than individual players. A spirit of loyalty and co-operation was manifest from the initial workout until the day when equipment was turned in.

While teamwork in the squad was paramount, the individual accomplishments of the players is not to be overlooked. Particularly Coach Horace Hicks is to be praised. He has been an inspiration to the men as a mentor and on the field. Hick's work has received praise wherever the team has played.

The pitching staff is worthy of praise. Bob Safelle, former William and Mary ace, was the iron man of the pitching staff, and it was he who hurled the no-hit, no-run game against the Hampden-Sidney Tigers, the only triumph of this type in the Old Dominion circles this season. He also blanked the fast St. John's outfit of Annapolis and closed the season brilliantly by turning back the University of Richmond Spiders. Richardson, a southpaw, did notable work in the box, winning seven games and losing nine. He defeated the Seminary twice, Randolph-Macon twice. Shepherd College, St. John's and Lynchburg. The work of Hansborough as relief pitcher was of a high order.

Horace Hicks, Lefty Bowles, Bill Fitzhugh, Ken Walden and Bob Safelle were the heavy hitters of the team. Hicks, Walden and Safelle also carried off the fielding honors. As M. C. V. lost only Fleet, Jones and Bowles, the prospects for a still greater season in 1928 are mighty high.

The 1927 Tennis Team was a brilliant one for the Medics, and at the end of the season were outranked in the state only by the invincible Hampden-Sidney Tigers. Manager Wood arranged a most trying schedule, including some eighteen matches, fifteen of which were played, yielding a result of twelve victories, one tie and only two defeats. The average of matches played was .857, a record bettered only by the boys from Death Valley and one of which the College may justly be proud.

Our victories this year were over such teams as Washington and Lee, Lynchburg College, Roanoke College, twice over University of Richmond, twice over the Hermitage Country Club team, Shepherd College, twice over Bridgewater College and once over Shenandoah. The Sawbones lost only to Hampden-Sidney and Lynchburg. The match with Randolph-Macon ended in a 4 to 4 tie, the deciding match being called off on account of darkness.

The team was composed of five letter men of last year's squad—Dill Lloyd, Jake Spessard, Athie Lutz, Pat Patterson and Johnnie Wood, with the fortunate addition of Bus Kent.

The team was exceptionally well-balanced, Lloyd and Kent presenting one of the finest doubles teams in the state, winning their matches regularly. Kent had a phenomenal year, in number two position, winning eleven of a possible twelve singles matches. To the top of the tennis ladder goes the justly deserved glory for the past season, but the men on the lower rungs deserve more than faint praise, for on many occasions, it was the lower ranking players that saved the matches for the Sawbones team. It is unfortunate that Jake Spessard and Athie Lutz will be lost by graduation this year, but despite these losses the Medics expect to place team on the courts that will more than hold up the record of last year. Among those newcomers of whom the Medics expect much, is Waugh, out-Bill Preas and Nat Newman also saw service in the Medico.
standing Rutgers player, along with many others of undoubted ability.

Theta Gamma Upsilon, a new organization of the Medical College of Virginia, was started by the women of the three schools, Medicine, Dentistry and Pharmacy, in November, 1926. It was honored by being named by Dr. and Mrs. Sanger, and received a hearty impetus from certain interested members of the faculty, and from the women themselves. Although young, the organization has been successful and filled a long-felt need, and bids fair to play an important role in the future.

The Revelers

The session of 1927-28 marked the third year of our activities as an organization, and it has been one of the most successful years yet experienced, for we are just becoming organized sufficiently to attempt the same things as previously planned, on a larger scale. Our orchestra, which is pictured on the next page, was generally considered the best the college has ever produced. Besides playing for all student assemblies and functions, they played for many dances, both in school and out. By invitation they have played for several large conventions and state societies. They were featured on the stage at the Colonial Theatre and helped make our broadcasting program from WRVA about the best of the season, judging from the great number of applause slips received.

The quartette, though late in getting started, was excellent, and was heard on numerous occasions and received with much applause and favorable comment. They also did themselves proud over the radio. The mention of the radio would not be complete without mentioning the violin solos by Miss Dorothy Kirschbaum and Mr. D. A. Dent, both of which were beautiful and splendidly received.

The Dramatic Club attempted something hitherto not done, in putting across a three-act comedy, which was most successful. The play, "We've Got to Have Money," by Edward Laska, was produced by special arrangement with Samuel French of New York. This play was taken on several trips with a repetition of the success it met in its initial performance in Richmond. Stunt night this year will be different in that two one-act plays will be given with the orchestra featured between them.

On the whole the year has been quite successful and it is due entirely to the co-operation the student body has given the organization, for which we are greatly thankful. With this continued spirit, the members desire to be doing something at all times for the good of our Alma Mater—I predict a great future for the Revelers. I do not feel as though I could close this summary of the Revelers activities without expressing my personal thanks, and that of the entire student body to the various directors: E. G. Watts of the Orchestra, E. T. Montgomery of the Quartette, and W. R. Southard of the Dramatic Club, and also to our faculty advisory committee, Mr. W. G. Crockett, Dr. G. Baughman and Dr. W. T. Sanger, for their work and aid at all times.

Ramon D. Garcin, Jr., President.

Scenes from Cabaniss Hall
Blackwell and McCracken Indicted

The two youths arrested Wednesday night in connection with the slot machine robbery at Woolworth's Gift Shop on East Broad Street, were shipped away to reform school this morning on the $15 local. Both boys tearfully protested their innocence when arraigned in Judge Meringue's court, but the judge phlegmatically shifted his Beechnut to the other side and consigned the boys to the house of correction.

It was brought out at the trial that the two culprits were connected with the Medical College of Virginia, Y. M. C. A., but the judge did not add anything to the sentence on this account. That the slot machine affair was not the initial occasion upon which the accused duo had exhibited symptoms of sticky fingers was disclosed to a thoroughly shocked and outraged audience, when "Soft-Shoe" Sanger (the eagle-eyed sleuth, who, it will be remembered, was the principal figure in the Worley Rudd-Darden affair) threw off the atmosphere of mystery that has enveloped him since the beginning of the trial and recited in dramatic manner his discoveries since he was assigned to the slot machine robbery case.

"Soft-Shoe" asserted that on seven distinct occasions the two culprits, McCracken and Blackwell, had been seen by O'Sleep in the act of removing money from the weighing machines in front of three of the stores on Broad Street. On the night of July 31, last, O'Sleep was holding to the proprietor of an all-night fruit stand, and was just deciding to continue on his beat (he thought he heard the sergeant coming) when a noise across the street attracted his attention. The proprietor of the fruit stand had turned his back for a moment and in this circumstance caused some slight delay in O'Sleep's departure, for his right-hand over

Big Business Deal Seen

It has been reported in real estate circles around Richmond, and also in medical circles, that there is to be quite a deal swung here in the near future. From all accounts two young—in fact, very young—financiers are going to purchase one of our local hospitals and completely change the entire works. It is even understood that the building will be materially changed from a four-story building to an eleven-story hospital. Plans are being made for immediate activity, as at least so we judge from the fact that the two young men are frequently seen on the property; in fact, they are actually living on the site. We do not know the price they paid, but we do understand that all (?) the tenements are more than interested in the change. For the benefit of those who may not know to whom reference is made, the staff of The Filter wishes to state that the two gentlemen are Drs. Allen S. Lloyd and Stafford O. Handy. Everyone, of course, knows these famous men, and it is hoped that Richmond will be much benefited by this contemplated change. It is more than doubtful, however.

PHI RHO SIGMA MOVES AGAIN

For some reason, unknown to the editor of The Filter, Phi Rho Sigma has been so busy moving this year that they have had no time to hold fraternity meetings. It has been said that the only meetings held were while they were at conference that started the year at 581 North Twelfth Street, but before the rent collector could get around for his first visit they had moved to 112 North Eighth Street. Now they are located on the third floor at Third and Broad. This continued moving about is somewhat of a mystery. It is possible that it is the landlord, but we understand that Phi Rho has paid up some of their debts, so the landlord may be eliminated. We are at a loss to explain it. We know that none of the members drink anything stronger than Coca-Cola. If anyone should solve this mystery, please let the editors know, as anything like this is of Interest to the entire college.

Committee To Test All College Licker

ELIMINATION TRIALS FOR THOSE TO BE APPOINTED

We have noticed quite a few of the students around the college with rather weary and drooping eyes, in fact more or less discolored, but not deep enough to have been vanquished in an argument. On trailing this gentle hint to the ground, the staff of The Filter was amazed to find that in every case the offender was an applicant for the job of Tester for the Licker which is consumed regularly in certain dark corners of the college. (Name of dark corner withheld.) After a severe quizzing, three of the men broke down and confessed that someone high

Lloyd Declared To Be Unethical By A. M. A.

ADVERTISES IN LOCAL NEWSPAPER

Allen Lloyd has recently been declared unethical and his license refused because of an "ad" which appeared in the July 10 issue of the News Leader, under caption, "Local Boy Winner of Tennis Titles." In the article it frequently referred to Mr. Lloyd as an M. O. G. His advertisement closely that Mr. Lloyd will soon be in the great hunt for shekels, and would appreciate patronage.

In view of Mr. Lloyd's indictment, persons applying to this must for any treatment do so at their own risk. It doesn't seem possible that a man with time to win tennis titles has time to be a good and efficient physician. And we also want it understood that this newspaper goes on record as saying the price paid should not be cut out to such men as Hicks, who plays baseball for publicite's sake, and also such men as Gladding, Southerland, Hudgins, and Dix, for the crime of using uniforms, furnished by the hospitals for work, every day for travel from one end of town to the other, also for advertising purposes. We will be glad to start a fund to prosecute these men.

PHI CHI WINS CASE

In the recent rushing season, Phi Chi, along with several other labor unions in the building, was jacked up for not obeying the rushing rules. It seems that no upper classman should go into the Anatomy Laboratory until Harvey Haag said they could. That in itself was enough to make the average man want to disobey the rules, but there was another impetus, namely, to see if Phi Chi couldn't get the attention of the Freshman Class. However, when the rest saw they would stand no show, they immediately sent representatives into the Lab, with the result that the whole darn crown was brought to the high tribunal. It seems that the rest of the frats could discover some kind of alibi, especially as they had such able lawyers, and R. D. Garcia, Jr., for Phi Rho Sigma, etc. Anyway, Rex Blenkinsop made a pitch of a fight for the Phi Chi, and the case was rested and sentence finally suspended. The editors of the Filter are much in favor of the Interfraternity Council, but hope that in the future when a case is brought to their attention full punishment will be conferred on all guilty parties. We say this because we feel sure that what the Phi Chis were accused of doing all the rest were as anxious as they do it—and get by. We must say, however, that we should have taken Law instead of Medicine.

The Weather

Increasing fogginess for Medical students. Signs of rain in Dr. Rudder's classes. Lots of hot winds from the lower floors. There appears to be a storm, which will probably arrive by May 18th. If it doesn't get cloudy, rain or snow, we presume it will be clear.

This first edition of The Filter is designed to fill a long-felt void in our College publications. The student needs some place where he can voice his feelings, his complaints. We have furnished said place. Of course, we cannot guarantee to publish everything turned into the office, as the asbestos paper used in printing this edition is rather thin and will stand only about 760 degrees centigrade. But we will be glad to edit all that the paper will hold. It must be understood by all that it is published with the understanding that it will be accepted in the spirit with which it is written; that the editors shall not be shot at without first giving at least three reasons, one of which must be long enough to give him a chance to get out of town before the first shot is fired. As a glance at the staff will show, this is without a doubt the finest staff (of ilars) ever assembled. Our reporter is noted for his writings in the American Mercury, the most popular of all newer magazines, and it was with great expense that we finally had him agree to work for this paper. We hope that the paper will be used fully by all students, regardless to what use they put it to. But remember, it is your own paper, and we want you to have it.

PERSONALS

It is rumored around the corner of Twelfth and Clay that Garcia is going to attend clinic next year, since they are going to start calling the roll.

Chas. Bowman and Cliff Beach, after extensive experiments, announce the discovery that tooth paste does not make the teeth stick.

Dr. Sanger found the present Senior Class so dumb that they could not appreciate the higher branches of learning, and so curtailed his course in applied psychology to one lecture.

Dr. Joe White is still telling about his trip to Europe.

Judging from the number of marriages and the increased prerequisites for admission, to our noble college, we are forced to believe that Bill Sanger and Dan Cupid have joined forces.

Mr. Mac has not forgotten how to amass shucks while boosing his newer occupations of painting and building. He can draw money better than Clara. How can draw men! And how!

Eddie Habough says he will get the cartoon of cigarettes on May 29.

It is hard to get first-hand information now, but we understand that Baker and Claterbaugh are about $1.13 ahead at present. Staff is still about 30 cents out.

We would suggest that Dick Love wear his hat more. He is almost naked without it.

SOCIETY NEWS

W. R. Southward, Jr., well-known member of the Senior Class, is making preparations for an extended trip South next week. It is believed that Mr. Southward will be away over Sunday afternoon and evening. He leaves for Drewry’s Bluff at 2:30 Sunday afternoon.

Linwood Parley spent a great deal of last summer visiting in Petersburgh, Va. Mr. Parley stayed at the Central State Hospital while in the South.

John Randolph St. George showed that he was quite a traveler last week. It is said that he visited Williamsburg and spent quite a bit of time there, but the best that.

A. C. Echols and Stafford O. Handy, two erstwhile members of the Class of ’28, were visitors on the campus of Medical College of Virginia last week. It was a treat to see those old boys again.

Angel Galdros gave a bridge party last Friday night in his Peerless on Ninth street bridge. Only one was invited, and cold Kentucky Tea was served. The party was a huge success and broke up rather early (1:30 A.M.).

The Senior Class in Nursing had a marvelous banquet last night, and had as guests husbands and other friends.

Mike Meadow, ex-business manager of the X-Ray, gave a card party at his residence, Thirteenth and Marshall streets, the other night.

Mike Meadow has recently bought himself a brand new car.

Baze Hoffman drank a glass of water last week, and it is reported that he had to call three plumbers to remove the rust from his esophagus. This comes of using hard water.

Messrs. Sloan, DeHart, and Lipshutz were honored guests of Judge Ingram during the past Christmas holidays. The boys report having had a bully time, in fact, they said it was Fine!

W. C. Jackson is trying to take the honors away from Lindy. It has been said that Mr. Jackson has been trying to become the Good-Moral Ambassador to Chesterfield County.

The Research Council of Medical College of Virginia had a most successful meeting last Monday evening. The council has located six quarts, eight and one-half pints and two empty fruit jars. Keep up the good work, boys.

E. G. Rex was a guest for the week-end at the home of Dave Satterfield recently. Rex says he wasn’t going very fast, either.
Missionary Society Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Sawbones Medical Missionary Society was held last night at 12:15 p.m. in Ward C of Memorial Hospital. There was a very large attendance. In fact, the very best held this year, and much important business was conducted. President Bowman called the meeting to order with a few pertinent remarks on the use of "Pituitrin as a Laxative," and introduced the following speaker, who astounded the house with the wisdom of their words. "Little Chester," who spoke of "The Perils in a Peersies," gave a most beautiful talk; along with it he gave several very interesting demonstrations. Dr. R. L. Claterbaugh gave a most interesting talk on "The Ethics of Straight Shooting," citing a few cases from his own private practice. Dr. Beaty, of the Dental School, told of "Seventeenth Street Four Years Ago and Now." This was also an illustrated lecture. These meetings are getting to be more and more popular and at this one meeting it is thought that Robert Clemens will give his own experiences in his own inimitable manner, "The Confessions of An Optum Enter." A very large audience is expected to hear Dr. Clemens, who, as everyone knows, is one of the most important officials in the Pharmacology and Physico Department of the Medical College of Virginia. At least so say Drs. Bond and Haag, Dr. Clemens' cohorts.

Monk Anderson Shows Faith in Mankind

The other day Monk went to a show in Richmond, and it being a rather crowded performance, the ticket-taker told him to follow two ladies to the left, meaning, of course, that seats for the performance were to be found on that side of the theater. Poor Monk, in his simple-minded faith in human nature, followed the ladies. Whether Monk was so interested in the show, or if to aforementioned ladies were of the type that are so seductive to man, anyway Monk continued to follow two ladies, he didn't even stop when the ladies went past a door marked "Ladies." The whole audience was surprised, and even shocked, when the performance was rudely interrupted by sundry shrieks and cries. Positive information could not be gathered, but it is understood that Monk had quite a bit of arguing. At any rate, Monk has been seen around the College wearing a beautiful "Shiner." We cannot say whether it is the ladies, but—well, boys will be boys, but Monk should be careful.

COMMITTEE TO TEST ALL COLLEGE LICEN

(Continued from Page 1) in authority has organized this committee, and that it was in order to keep from losing the remainder of his hair that it was to be tried on the committee. It is now said, however, that he is going to discharge the entire committee, as the committees require more licen to test than he can afford. One must remember that the President of the U. & S. only gets $75,000 a year! However, until all is ended the editor of this noble epistle is also trying to get a job as Tester.

LONELY HEARTS

(A column for winnem whose husbands don't understand them. By one who knows.)

I am in love with a bald-headed doctor who is a regular likker hound. When he is sober he is a real nice fellow, but when he is not so sober—HELP! What shall I do?

FLORENCE.

Dear Florence: About the best thing I can suggest is to help him lay off the likker. That will make him jealous and he will quit.

I go with a sophomore who is not true to me. I love him dearly, but he will go out with anything that wears a dress. How can I make him true to me and me alone?

EDNA.

Dear Edna: If I were you, I would make it plain to him that your dresses should be the only thing he is interested in.

I am a very pretty girl, white, 18 years old, and have very much money. Somehow, I don't seem to be able to get a regular fellow. Will you please help me to right this wrong through your column?

LONESOME.

Editor's Note: If Lonesome will please send address, I will be right around.

Mellin's Food is frequently, and erroneously, spoken of as simply a "sugar". The actual facts, as stated above, are that the sugar content (maltose) is 58.88% and that 35.5% represents nutritive material other than sugar, viz: dextrins 20.69%, cereal proteins 10.35%, fat .16%, mineral salts 4.3%; the latter consisting of potassium, calcium, sodium, magnesium, phosphatic salts and iron.
What You Should Know Before Investing in Dental Equipment

The dental equipment of forty years ago was very crude and imperfect. At that time Mr. F. E. Case, founder of the Harvard Company, seeing an inviting opportunity for his inventive skill, applied his best efforts to the construction of a dental chair along new and original lines. The many new and desirable features possessed by the first Harvard chair set a standard that other manufacturers had to conform to. Since that time the Harvard Company has been a recognized leader in the dental equipment field. Not only has The Harvard Company set a standard in design, but it has set a standard for quality that other manufacturers have never been able to meet at the price of Harvard Equipment. "High pressure" salesmanship, therefore, has never been necessary in selling Harvard Equipment—it has always been sold by inviting careful comparison with other equipment. The dentist who is given unrestricted privilege to carefully compare design, efficiency, quality, beauty and price of Harvard Equipment with that of other makes will quickly understand why it is the choice of so many leading members of the profession. Before investing in dental equipment, COMPARE Harvard Equipment with that of other makes and form your own conclusion.

WHY TAKE A CHANCE?

When you buy a Dental Cabinet, you don't consciously gamble on the result; but, when you know that American Dental Cabinets outnumber all others in use today, 3 to 1, why not use that knowledge to promote your best interests? This supremacy does not mean that American Cabinets have had a sudden spurt of popularity, due to a super sales force. It means that for 25 years The American Cabinet Co. has been building its supremacy and prestige through quality and service out of the ordinary. Fill out the coupon below and mail it.

PRIVATE ROOMS

Private rooms with accommodations for one, two, three and four patients have been provided. The charges for general board and care are from $3.75 to $7.00 per day, which includes general nursing care, the services of the Resident Physician and the House Staff.

Other charges for ambulance service, bacteriological and pathological examinations, medicines and prescriptions, surgical dressings, the use of delivery and operating rooms and X-Ray examinations are reasonable.

All reputable physicians and surgeons in Richmond have full privilege (including the use of operating rooms) to treat patients occupying private rooms in any of the hospitals.

PUBLIC WARDS

The charge for patients in the Public Wards is $3.00 per day, which is in full for all examinations and service necessary, there being no extra charge.

The privilege to treat patients occupying beds in the Public Wards is restricted to a group of physicians and surgeons appointed by the Executive Committee of the Board of Visitors, selected from the Faculty of the School of Medicine of the College. Physicians and surgeons do not receive a fee or any emolument from services rendered by them toward patients.

Why Should Doctors Insure?

Because, as a class, they survive to very advanced ages; and because they are too busy being good doctors to acquire the business man's familiarity with investments. Perhaps no other professional man is more likely to reach the age of retirement without sufficient means of support.

As a method of eliminating this risk we prescribe the most effective "economic antiseptic" known—an Old Age Endowment policy in

Valentine’s Meat-Juice

The Power of Valentine’s Meat-Juice in Quieting the Irritable Stomach, Aiding the Digestion, Restoring the Appetite and Sustaining and Strengthening has been demonstrated by many Medical Men in the treatment of Anaemia, Exhaustion and Debility.

Dr. Antonio Navarro Fernandez, Physician San Juan de Dios Hospital, Madrid, Spain: "Valentine’s Meat-Juice has proved of great importance in treating patients suffering with Dystrophy and in cases of Anaemia caused by Syphilis. I find it most efficacious in treating patients after operations of all kinds."

John Keay, Medical Officer in Charge, Edinburgh War Hospital, Edinburgh, Scotland: "The Valentine’s Meat-Juice has been in this Hospital, and in cases of extreme exhaustion from sickness or wounds has been found a stimulant and food of great value."

For Sale by American and European Chemists and Druggists.
